

Lottery Ticket Sale Delay Seen Due To Squabble

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Members of the Ohio Lottery Commission threatened to resign following a deadlock with the state auditor's office over cash awards for lottery winners at a meeting Wednesday.

"There's a strong possibility that Ohio could end up in two weeks without a lottery commission," said Commissioner Louis Goldman of Dayton after a stormy session in Cleveland. "I do not wish to continue to be a member of the commission unless some of these obstacles are removed," Commissioner Bernice MacKenzie of Canton said.

Initial lottery ticket sales could be delayed by three weeks if the commission is required to change its methods of paying prizes, said John Kirkland Jr., director of the lottery, following the meeting.

Thomas E. Ferguson, deputy state auditor, told the commissioners that they must cancel their plan to let ticket sales agents pay $20 winners immediately in cash.

Ferguson said under Ohio law his office must disburse all state funds by check and must make sure all disbursements are properly accounted for.

Commission Chairman David F. Leahy said he will try to see Gov. John J. Gilligan Monday about "some of the misunderstandings" that have developed with the auditor's office.

A commission spokesman said the day-long meeting with Ferguson was a heated one. "It's politics," he declared, referring to Ferguson's candidacy for state auditor.

The spokesman said Stephen Parisi of Cleveland, a special state counsel assigned to the commission, has been asked to get a ruling on the issues from the state attorney general's office by 4 p.m. Friday.

He said the commission had been told by Roy Newell, the state auditor's liaison man with the commission, "that it was all right to go ahead with the $20 prize payment by the agent to the winner."

Plates for ticket printing based on that plan already are at the printers, the spokesman said.

"We had programed everything that we were doing" to an Aug. 12 starting date, he added. "This has to mean everything's delayed."

He said other issues in dispute concerned the commission's plan to purchase cars and selection of the accounting firm of Haskin & Sells, which has set up accounting accounting procedures for other state lotteries, to do the same thing in Ohio.

Ferguson was quoted as telling the commission there might be difficulty in paying vouchers for the accounting firm on grounds that firm's duties might overlap his own.

Leaders Hear Of Mideast Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will brief congressional leaders and his Cabinet on his 10-day Middle East journey before leaving for a weekend of preparation for his next diplomatic mission.

The President planned sessions today with the bipartisan leadership of the Senate and House, to fill them in on his meetings in Egypt, Saudia Arabia, Syria, Israel and Jordan and on the upcoming NATO talks in Brussels and the Soviet summit.

He also was meeting with the Cabinet and the National Security Council about the Moscow trip before leaving for his Camp David, Md., retreat for the weekend.

Nixon leaves Tuesday for Brussels and Moscow.

Nixon returned from the Middle East Wednesday afternoon, landing at Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland where he was met by daughters Tricia Cox and Julie Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower's husband, David.

Vice President Gerald R. Ford, and several Cabinet members were among several hundred persons greeting him as his helicopter landed on the south lawn of the White House from Andrews.

In a 15-minute ceremony, Nixon said "a profound and lasting change has taken place" in the Middle East.

"Where there was no hope for peace, there now is hope. Where there was hostility for the United States, there now is friendship," he said.

White House spokesmen estimated that 7 million persons turned out for Nixon on the 14,775-mile journey.

Nixon on Tuesday held a nearly two-hour talk with Portugal's new president, Gen. Antonio de Spínola, in the Azores, where he spent the night before departing for Washington Wednesday.

Alexander M. Haig Jr., Nixon's chief of staff, said the President was encouraged by his personal diplomacy. He said the five Middle East leaders with whom Nixon met promised to make concerted efforts to negotiate a settlement to that region's problems. Haig said, "We achieved all the objectives set forth," and listed them as:

—Strengthening new relationships with Arab states;

—Establishing a new relationship and assuring all parties that this would not be at the expense of long-standing relationships, and,

—Demonstrating a "willingness to assist in the search for a long-term solution" to past divisions.

Haig, asked if any secret commitments were made, replied: "No, I don't think so. Let's leave it there. There was fairly explicit reporting on the substance of each of the discussions. Exchanges with all the leaders were very detailed and very complete."

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the European trip probably would last 10 days, with the Brussels talks planned for June 26 and the Moscow sessions beginning June 27.

He said the President was "not overly tired, but he feels the miles and the hours" of the Middle East venture.

During the Spínola-Nixon talk, the Portuguese leader who took power in a military coup eight weeks ago won a promise of United States economic aid.

Iowa Man Escapes Tornado 3rd Time

ANKENY, Iowa (AP) — Herman Nagel has survived three tornadoes without a scratch. Does he believe someone is watching over him?

"Hell no!" he said Wednesday night. "I think somebody's got it in for me. It's getting closer every time."

Nagel's three-bedroom home was hit by one of two twisters that shattered a hundred homes and businesses in this Des Moines suburb of 10,000 Tuesday night, killing two and injuring 10.

The community was sealed off to sightseers Wednesday as cleanup work and efforts to restore utilities continued.

It was the second time Nagel's $25,000 brick home was struck. A twister tore off the roof in October 1966 as Nagel, his wife, Joy, and their three children huddled in the basement.

The house was left broken, scattered and riddled again Tuesday. "It's a well-built home, rather, it was well built," Nagel said.

It cost $8,000 to repair the 1966 damage. But now, "everything from the floor up is completely gone except the cookware."

He said Tuesday's tornado was much worse. "And it hit almost identically to the first one."

"This is the third one I went through. The first was in Fargo, N.D., about 1956," he said.

Nagel said the sky "kind of put me on my guard. It was real pale green. That happened the first time too."

Gov. Robert D. Ray on Wednesday toured Ankeny and other Central Iowa communities that hit by the tornadoes, high winds and rain.

He declared three counties disaster areas and said he would ask President Nixon for federal assistance.

Ankeny Mayor O. J. Weigel asked for help to move water-soaked items in three schools he said received an estimated $3 million damage.

Because of Nagel's experience with funnel clouds, he says he knows when one is about to strike.

"My ears pop. Evidently it's the vacuum created by the tornado. It's kind of a warning system. But I hope we don't have to rely on that, because you don't have much time after the pop. The tornado is right there."

The Nagels now have four children, ages 7 to 11, all asleep when his ears popped.

"That meant head for cover. I don't know if I threw the kids downstairs or pushed them. But luck was with us."

"Something went through the picture window in the living room moments after we passed it. It made a hole in the opposite wall."

"We made it downstairs in time, thank God." There the family waited out the storm, frightened, soaking wet, praying.

Nagel, an employee of the John Deere Des Moines Works, said, "It's like a bad dream. It can't happen twice, but it did."

But he's thankful. "Homes you can always rebuild."

Weather

Partly cloudy, warm and humid with thunderstorms likely today. High, mid 80s. Low tonight, mid 60s. Considerable cloudiness and continued warm, showers and thundershowers likely, high, low 80s. Probability of precipitation, 30 per cent today and tonight and 60 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Wednesday were: high, 75; low, 68.

Israelis Hit Refugee Camps; Casualties High

By The Associated Press

Israeli planes bombed and rocketed five Palestinian refugee camps in south Lebanon today, the Lebanese Defense Ministry said. Unofficial reports said at least 40 persons were killed or wounded.

The Lebanese government issued radio appeals for "urgent blood donations of all types."

It was the third day of Israeli air attacks in delayed retaliation for the Palestinian guerrilla raid a week ago on the Shamir kibbutz, in which three women were killed. The retaliatory raids had been delayed until President Nixon left the Middle East.

The Israeli command claimed that the targets hit today "were definitely identified as military installations of the terrorist organization."

But Associated Press reporter Nabih Basho reported from Sidon, the ancient Mediterranean port 25 miles south of Beirut, that the Israeli bombs and rockets hit one refugee camp in Sidon and three in the Biblical town of Tyre, 50 miles south of the Lebanese capital.

The camps have a total population of 44,000 refugees registered with the United Nations Relief and Works Agency. Reporting by telephone from Sidon, Lebanon's third largest city, Basho said the Israeli planes came over in pairs at 11:30 a.m. to attack the Ein el Hilweh camp on the southern edge of the city.

Telephone reports from Tyre said the town's three camps were on fire, he said.

During another call 45 minutes later, Basho suddenly shouted: "My God, this place is shaking. They're back again. Hang up, I have to take shelter."

Ten minutes later he reported the Sidon camp had been hit again.

Local authorities in Sidon reported at least 25 persons were killed or wounded in the first attack on Ein el Hilweh, and Sidon hospitals reported at least 15 more in the second strike.

Lebanese anti-aircraft guns in both Sidon and Tyre opened up on the raiders, and there was anti-aircraft fire from the Sidon refugee camp also. But an Israeli communique said all planes returned safely.

The guerrillas, who administer the refugee camps in Lebanon independent of the Lebanese government, cordoned off Ein el Hilweh immediately after the first raid. Newsmen and photographers were turned back as ambulances raced in and out.

Israeli military sources said the raids, which began Tuesday just as Nixon was leaving the Middle East, were to wipe out guerrilla training bases and headquarters and disrupt plans for new terrorist attacks on Israeli settlements.

Beirut newspapers reported 50 guerrillas were killed and 60 were wounded in the raids. But Wafa, the Palestinian news agency, said this was "fantastically exaggerated" and the toll was four or five Palestinians injured.

Earlier the Lebanese government had reported one Palestinian killed.

Impeachment Panel Eyes Tax Returns

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's tax returns are coming before the House impeachment inquiry, with investigators especially interested in a $576,000 deduction he claimed for vice presidential papers given to the government.

The Judiciary Committee today begins trying to determine whether there was any fraud in the preparation of a deed for the gift, which was not signed and delivered until after a law authorizing such deductions had been repealed.

The deductions, spread over the years 1969-72, since have been disallowed by the Internal Revenue Service, which assessed Nixon $432,787 in back taxes. A similar conclusion was reached by the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, but neither investigation dealt with the question of fraud.

The Judiciary Committee also is examining Nixon's personal finances to see if any government or election campaign funds were converted to his personal use.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., pushing to complete the presentation of all impeachment evidence this week, has allotted only one day for the tax and finances presentation. He hopes to wind up the inquiry Friday with a study of the secret bombing of Cambodia in 1969-70.

There were these related developments on Wednesday:

—Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry E. Petersen defended the original Watergate investigation in testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee. Petersen accused Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. of being unfair in implying that political considerations influenced the original investigation.

—The Senate Watergate Committee announced it would make no further efforts to question Nixon's two brothers or close friend C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo. The committee goes out of existence on June 28.

—A federal appeals court agreed to review an order that a White House tape section dealing with political use of the Internal Revenue Service must be turned over to a Watergate grand jury. Nixon had appealed U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica's order.

The House Judiciary Committee finished with Watergate Wednesday, including the latest developments in special prosecutor Leon Jaworski's running battle with the White House over presidential tapes.

The Watergate presentation, lasting almost six weeks, left some committee members convinced a cover-up still is continuing.

Rep. Hamilton Fish Jr., R-N.Y., said a consistent pattern of opposition to Watergate investigations on the part of the White House has been established.

"He (Nixon) thwarted the FBI investigation, he limited the special prosecutor and he has defied the Judiciary Committee," said Fish.

He said Wednesday's presentation of Jaworski's problems with the White House had a strong impact on the case:

"It makes it worse. Here Jaworski came in with more authority and independence than former prosecutor Archibald Cox, and the very next thing you find is the White House telling him he can't have any more evidence, that he's got enough."

The conclusion of the presentation of evidence this week will leave the committee a long way from completing its job of recommending to the House whether grounds exist to impeach Nixon.

At meetings next week it will have to decide on calling witnesses, public release of evidence and the nature of the defense Nixon's lawyers will be allowed to present.

It then must go over the vast amount of evidence collected and try to fit it to specific articles of impeachment.

Most of the remaining questions involve party positions, which could increase the polarization on the committee that appears to be developing as voting on impeachment nears.

Oceans Meet Under Way

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Representatives of all but two of the world's nations begin a conference today to continue work on a new system of law for 70 per cent of the earth's surface, the oceans.

Five thousand delegates and official observers are attending the third United Nations Conference on the Law of the Sea. Conference president H.S. Amerasinghe of Sri Lanka said he was doubtful a comprehensive treaty could be completed at the 2½-month meeting.

"There is so much to do, so little time, and many nations are participating for the first time so they want to express their views," he said.

Only the Nationalist Chinese regime on Taiwan and North Vietnam are not participating. Taiwan was not invited in deference to the Chinese Communist government, and North Vietnam refused to attend because the Viet Cong was excluded.

Previous conferences were held in 1958 and 1960 on a smaller scale and failed to reach significant accords. But the importance of the seas and their resources to the world's exploding population, the rivalries of nations to benefit from those resources and the grave threat from pollution of various kinds added an urgency to this conference that was missing earlier.

The agenda has 100 separate matters, including territorial sea limits, offshore exploration and development of resources and marine pollution.

Another conference has been scheduled tentatively next year in Vienna, but there is some agreement that positive steps can be taken now to set new agreed limits of national sovereignties over coastal waters.

The traditional three-mile limit already has been replaced by many countries. Rather than continue the practice of every country declaring its own territorial limits—several Latin American nations claim 200 miles—a universal 12-mile limit is proposed.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dwindling hopes for a decline in interest rates pushed the stock market slightly lower again today in continued light trading.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down .23 at 825.88, and declines held a 3 to 2 lead over advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers noted that Wall Street awaiting uneasily the weekly announcement from New York's First National City Bank on its prime rate plans. It was feared the big bank, which lowered its prime a quarterpoint early this month, would raise it again to the 11½ per cent level at which most banks have held their big business short-term loan rates since last month. Texaco, down ¼ at 25½, was the Big Board volume leader.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index lost .13 to 82.59.

Big Boom In Beer Can Hats Hikes Sales Of Other Items

HONOLULU (AP)—Many wives her are encouraging their husbands to drink a greater variety of beer, but with a stern warning: "Don't bend the can."

Armed with scissors, paper punches and crochet needles, the creative women are caught in a current fad—beer can hats.

Environmentalists are pleased because fewer discarded cans are winding up along the roadways, and the beer companies are happy, being the beneficiaries of the free advertising. Holding up their side of the operation, husbands are downing brands of beer they don't usually prefer, just to provide a desired can design.

Referring to one brand, a husband said, "I wouldn't drink the stuff. I poured out the entire six-pack, so my wife could have the cans."

Teetotalers also are getting into the act, making their hats out of soft drink cans.

The brand name and design on the cans are cut out in sections, edged with a line of holes and used as panels in a wide variety of caps, hats and visors crocheted with yarn.

Square or rectangular sections are joined to form the crown on some hats. Crescent shapes form the bill and rounded triangular shapes form the crown on baseball or golf style caps.

Supermarkets here are stocking special stands with skeins of yarn in a variety of colors to meet the demand. And singlehole, hand-held paper punches have shown up on drug store counters.

One local enterprise is selling a brochure, including patterns and instructions for the hats, for 50 cents.

Getting the top off a soft aluminum can is done easily by placing it sideways in an electric can opener, but trying that on a heavier stainless steel can may strip the gears.

Heavy gloves are advised when using a knife or handheld can opener to remove the top, reports a husband sporting a bandaged thumb.

National Fink Day Celebrated

FINK, Tex. (AP)—There is the Year of the Ram, the Hour of the Wolf, and the Night of the Iguana. This is the Day of the Fink.

It is National Fink Day of National Fink Week and one or two thousand Fink admirers are expected in this North Central Texas town with a population of nine.

Not everyone here will be a bona fide Fink, however.

There are three local Finks, but other bearers of the family name have come from afar.

Louis Fink of Beatrice, Neb., is here. So is Don Fink of Eldridge, Iowa, and Wilbur Fink of Columbus, Ohio. Nick Fink of Comstock Park, Mich., called to say he couldn't come because his wife was ill.

Those who come can look forward to a free barbecue, the Fink Folk Festival, a Fink flea market and the Fink Museum tour.

Last year 2,200 attended. And that was without the Fink Folk Festival.

"We expect them all to have a great time. And there's an all-out possibility that's what we're going to do," said Patricia Albright, town mayor and director of Fink activities for the last 10 years.

She says she's gotten inquiries from as far away as Korea, where a soldier wrote "because he couldn't believe it."

Festivities begin with the raising of the Fink flag, which also has flown over the Texas Capitol.

The flag is emblazoned with a rod and reel, shotgun and three stars. "What the stars are for I have no idea," Mrs. Albright said.

Wastewater Money Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency said today it has asked for $5 million in federal grants for 23 Ohio wastewater treatment plant construction projects.

Director Ira L. Whitman said 12 of the projects did not receive full federal funding because of a technicality in the new federal water pollution control law, while 11 suffered because inflation hiked construction costs above what was expected.

"The increased grants will bring these projects to fair funding levels," he said.

Three-Car Accident Causes Heavy Damage

Two people were treated at the scene for minor scratches following a three-car wreck at the intersection of E. Mill and S. Pickaway Sts. 1:19 p.m. Wednesday that caused an estimated $4000 damage.

Circleville Police charged Rosaetta Congrove, 57, Route 1, Laurelville, with failure to yield after investigating the crash.

She and Charlotte M. Dolby, 38, 1070 Georgia Rd., were treated for minor injuries.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Congrove, driving west on Mill St., stopped at the intersection and then drove into the path of the Dolby vehicle which was headed south on Pickaway, according to police.

Impact forced the Dolby car to the right where it collided with a Circleville Board of Education car operated by George D. Horn, 57, 129 W. Mill St. Horn headed east on Mill St., was stopped for the stop sign.

After the second impact, the Dolby vehicle careened to the left out of control, ran through a yard at 201 E. Mill, clipped the corner of a garage at the rear of the property, and came to rest in a metal shed at the rear of 514 S. Pickaway St.

At the 201 E. Mill St. property of Harold Fausnaugh, the car damaged the garage and its contents. The metal shed owned by Milton Cockerham, 514 S. Pickaway St., its contents, and 60-feet of fencing were also damaged.

Passengers in Mrs. Congrove's car were Fred King, 17, and Tom Sowards, 23, both of Route 1, Laurelville. They were not hurt.

Investigating the accident were Ptl. Jim Francis and Circleville Police Chief Robert Temple.

Police Search For Ball Glove

Circleville Police are searching for a baseball glove taken from a car parked at the Walnut Creek Pike and County Road 511 Wednesday at 7:15 p.m.

The glove, owned by Dwain Whalen, 10, Route 2, Ashville, was in a car owned by Harold Whalen. It is valued at $12.

Police are investigating a possible break-in attempt at Litters Inc., Heating, 701 S. Pickaway St.

Dallas Dingus, Tarlton, told police that when he reported to work Thursday morning, he discovered damage to the rear door.

Two locks had been ripped loose from the door casing. Nothing was taken, however.

NEW YORK (AP) — Dwindling hopes for a decline in interest rates pushed the stock market slightly lower again today in continued light trading.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down .23 at 825.88, and declines held a 3 to 2 lead over advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers noted that Wall Street awaiting uneasily the weekly announcement from New York's First National City Bank on its prime rate plans. It was feared the big bank, which lowered its prime a quarterpoint early this month, would raise it again to the 11½ per cent level at which most banks have held their big business short-term loan rates since last month. Texaco, down ¼ at 25½, was the Big Board volume leader.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index lost .13 to 82.59.

Farm Tax Plan Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation has urged the Ohio Board of Tax Appeal to use the "income approach" in figuring farmland taxes under the recently approved State Issue One.

"The income approach is the fairest method to use," said bureau executive vice president William Swank. "It's the method used in determining tax on nearly all business property."

Under the income approach, Swank said, the value of the farmland is determined by its productive capability, commodity prices, crop yield figures and interest rate charged the farmer.

A formula using the approach was proposed to the tax board earlier this week, Swank said.

Issue One, approved by the state's voters last fall, provides for the taxation of farmland on the basis of current use rather than potential value.

Three-Car Accident Causes Heavy Damage

Two people were treated at the scene for minor scratches following a three-car wreck at the intersection of E. Mill and S. Pickaway Sts. 1:19 p.m. Wednesday that caused an estimated $4000 damage.

Circleville Police charged Rosaetta Congrove, 57, Route 1, Laurelville, with failure to yield after investigating the crash.

She and Charlotte M. Dolby, 38, 1070 Georgia Rd., were treated for minor injuries.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Congrove, driving west on Mill St., stopped at the intersection and then drove into the path of the Dolby vehicle which was headed south on Pickaway, according to police.

Impact forced the Dolby car to the right where it collided with a Circleville Board of Education car operated by George D. Horn, 57, 129 W. Mill St. Horn headed east on Mill St.,

Man Appears On 7 Drug Charges

A man charged with seven drug counts was among the four persons appearing on criminal charges in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court during Wednesday's session.

Lester Thimmes, 450 Abernathy Ave., appeared on seven drug charges. He pleaded not guilty on arraignment for charges of prohibition against delivering barbiturates, prohibition against delivering amphetamines, illegal use of a building, possession of marijuana, possession of hypodermics, possession of narcotics and possession of narcotics for sale. The hearing on these charges will be scheduled later.

Appearing for sentence after previously entering pleas of guilty were Lynn Edward Floyd, Columbus and William Watson, 202 Logan St. The court had ordered pre-sentence reports at the time of their arraignments and considered the information compiled by the Adult Parole Authority.

Floyd was charged with receiving and concealing stolen property and was placed on probation for 18 months. Watson was placed on probation for a period of three years after conviction of grand larceny.

A motion for shock probation was granted to Richard LaFollette, Route 1, after he had been incarcerated for insufficient funds. He also appeared on second and third offenses of issuing a check without an account which were brought to the court on bills of information.

County prosecutor Richard Gerhardt told the court he had no objection to the charges being reduced to misdemeanors which would make them equal to first offenses. LaFollette pleaded guilty to the two reduced charges and Judge William Ammer placed him on probation for three years for all the offenses.

At the 201 E. Mill St. property of Harold Fausnaugh, the car damaged the garage and its contents. The metal shed owned by Milton Cockerham, 514 S. Pickaway St., its contents, and 60-feet of fencing were also damaged.

Passengers in Mrs. Congrove's car were Fred King, 17, and Tom Sowards, 23, both of Route 1, Laurelville. They were not hurt.

Investigating the accident were Ptl. Jim Francis and Circleville Police Chief Robert Temple.

Police Search For Ball Glove

Statehouse Space Use Being Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A legislative committee gets down to details next week on what to do with space in the Statehouse made available by the exit of some officials into the new State Office Tower.

One of the things it may recommend is a large hearing room to accommodate 400-500 persons for hearings on controversial issues such as abortion, gun control, and the women's equal rights amendment.

House Speaker Pro Tem Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, said Tuesday the House is recommending such a room to assure interested citizens of hearing and being heard.

The largest room now available, in either the House or the Senate, can hold only about 200 to 250 persons, and then they are jammed in on a shoulder-to-shoulder basis.

Many potential witnesses are spectators and had to be turned away earlier in the session for hearings on controversial bills. Loudspeakers were provided in the rotunda but proceedings were difficult to hear and be understood.

Riffe heads a committee of six senators and seven House members which will determine how to utilize space being made available by the exit of the secretary of state, treasurer, and auditor. The panel will meet either Tuesday or Wednesday next week, he said.

The South Bloomfield United Methodist Church would like to thank each and every person who helped in any way with the annual Memorial Day Dinner. To all those who worked during the day, donated to the dinner and all who attended a big thanks in making this a most successful venture.

A most delightful trip to Philadelphia, Pa. last week was enjoyed by Emily Berry, her mother Mrs. J. B. Eitel of Lockbourne, her sister Jennette Myers and Lois Hancock both of Grove City.

Sites visited were the Liberty Bell which is housed in Independence Hall, two conference rooms furnished and restored recently as a gift to the nation's Bi-Centennial by the Daughters of the American Revolution, Old Christ Church were George Washington, Ben Franklin and other great men in history attended. Betsy Ross house on Arch Street was very interesting.

Things are being readied for the 200th anniversary of our nation in "76". The group toured Society Hill, saw Elfreth's Alley and Old Book Benders Restaurant.

They had a day and a half stop in Penn Dutch Country in and around Lancaster, Pa., visited and shopped at the Kitchen Kettle, Old Village Store, Bird-in-Hand Dutch Haven and took a ride to Paradise on the old Strasburg Railroad.

A stop was also made at the Westmoreland Glass factory where some china was purchased. The trip was made as a gift for Emily's July Birthday.

The attorney general and Ohio Supreme Court also are moving into the 41-story office skyscraper across the street from the capitol, but the annex now occupied by them is scheduled for demolition.

At its first meeting June 13, the committee discussed procedural matters. "Ground rules" were laid out that provide generally that the House will occupy space that becomes available on its side of the Statehouse, while the Senate will be able to spread out on the other side.

The House will get most of the space—including that being vacated by the treasurer and auditor. Senators' secretaries and staff members will get the rooms already left behind by the secretary of state.

Riffe said the committee expects to hear at its meeting next week from spokesmen for the Department of Administrative Services and the state architect, among others.

Wakeup Scheme Brings Arrest

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Mrs. Bernice L. Jones was arrested early today in connection with an unusual scheme to wake up her husband, authorities reported.

According to officials, the 43-year-old woman said she summoned fireengines hoping the noise would awaken her sleeping husband.

He apparently went to bed after a marital argument. She was charged with calling in a false alarm, police said.

Struck Company Stages Comeback

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A buoyant Willie Farah says his clothing company's product line "is going very, very, very well" and he appears to be putting a bitter labor dispute behind him.

Farah, son of a Lebanese immigrant, talks about his El Paso, Texas-based company gaining strength from adversity.

He appeared Wednesday to announce the reopening of the second of two plants here closed last year when Farah Manufacturing Co. was retrenching during a 22-month strike and boycott.

A campaign by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union to be recognized as the Farah employees' bargaining agent ended successfully in late February, capping a battle of heated rhetoric and complicated litigation.

Willie Farah says labor-management relations are going very well. He says the company, whose sales declined by millions during the dispute, is making money and diversifying into sport coats and leisure wear.

He didn't offer exact figures on the company's improving financial picture, saying regulations state they must first be published in company reports.

Farah once had plants making trousers in Victoria, Tex., Las Cruces, N.M., Albuquerque, N.M., here and in El Paso. Toward the end of the strike, only the five Farah plants in El Paso remained open.

Now, Farah says eventually about 2,500 employees will work here—about twice the number before the plants closed.

There's also a chance the Victoria plant may reopen.

Farah, who took a hard line during the strike, told a civic club here only seven months ago that "without a doubt this is the most vicious thing that has hit the American scene in the 200 years it's been here." The union had accused company president Willie Farah of trying "to play God." But he displayed no rancor Wednesday.

Competitive Improvement

In world trade, among the industrial nations the competitive advantage traditionally has gone to that country which was most successful in holding down its unit labor costs. This was accomplished by lower wages, higher levels of productivity, or both.

For years since World War II manufacturers in Japan, Germany and other nations were able to capitalize to an extent on considerably lower wage levels to give American manufacturers stiff competition in some product lines. The shoe has been moving to the other foot for the last dozen years.

Wage bases have been rising rapidly in Japan, Germany, Britain, Sweden, France and Italy, but productivity increases have been at a much slower pace. Thus, "unit labor costs," or the part of an item's cost contributed by labor, have been rising more rapidly in the other countries than in the United States since the early 1960s.

Two dollar devaluations have helped the U.S. competitive position.

An indication of how dramatic the favorable U.S. ratio may be, all factors taken into account, was the 1973 increase in unit labor costs of 3.1 per cent in the U.S., compared to 171 per cent in Japan as expressed in U.S. dollars.

The President's Promises

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

WITH THE PRESIDENT — Mr. Nixon is making some heady promises to heads of state on his Middle Eastern trip, beginning with his concordat with President Sadat of Egypt. It is assumed that the several Arab leaders understand that many of Nixon's pledges must meet with Congressional approval before they take on substance. It was quite easy for him to get full backing from Congress after laying before it the things he had agreed to do for (and with) the People's Republic of China and Russia, after his triumphant pre-Watergate trips in 1972.

But he will return from his trip to face a Congress that is heavily engaged in the process of trying to impeach him. It is not expected, therefore, that Congress will bend over backwards to cooperate with him — even though he and Dr. Henry Kissinger have worked miracles in this truculent part of the world.

The Cairo communique included several important "ifs" which were ignored by the happy Egyptian press. Phrases meaning in effect, "if Congress approves," were buried here and there in that heady document whose official title is "Principles and Cooperation between Egypt and the United States." But they were smothered in the shouts of the multitudes, the bestowal of medals and other trophies, and the overwhelmingly ecstatic welcome given to Nixon by the men who run Egypt and believe they won the Yom Kippur war.

The promise to beef up Egypt's almost nonexistent nuclear power program will be met. But it is likely that this or the next government in Washington will keep a gimlet eye on how the Sadat or some subsequent Egyptian government utilizes the atomic fuel we will sell them. We failed to do that in the case of India, and one day not long ago the parched earth of that sorry land erupted with a nuclear "device."

What may be the costliest U.S. investment in Egypt was under way for weeks before the signing of the Nixon-Sadat agreement. This is the awesome task we have undertaken to clean up the Suez Canal, which has been inoperative since the 6-Day War of 1967.

Cleaning it up and making it navigable again is a bigger job than Ferdinand de Lesseps had in building it. Sunken ships as large as 8,000 tonners must be cut up by acetylene torches and their parts dredged and barged away. The Israelis built a causeway across it, during the recent war, and breaking that up will take many more weeks — so well was it constructed of huge rocks. Since work started under the overall control of the Sixth Fleet and with the aid of small British Mediterranean units, and specially trained Egyptian sappers, more than 200,000 mines and still active shells, aerial bombs and grenades have been blown up.

We have yet to lose a man in this risky work, whose success owes much to the job the U.S. Navy did in Haiphong harbor after the Vietnam armistice.

We expect to have it open for modest-sized shipping in six months. The indication is that the Egyptians, who will operate it once it is clear, will ask U.S. aid in deepening it from 38 to more than 70 feet, to give the new supertankers a short cut to their world markets.

The U.S. "presence" is reasserting itself in the Middle East as a result of the disengagements of fighting forces, promises of expanded trade and the Nixon visit. Unites States Information Services is reopening its Cairo offices, building in Khartoum, getting a better break in the press in Amman, Beirut and Algiers. We "sell" best with space films and exhibitions of moon rocks. Libya, Syria and Iraq are least receptive to our propaganda.

But don't worry. We'll wear 'em down.

M.K. Mortagi, chairman of the board of Egyptian Railways, sent a nice message to "President R. Nixon" and Mrs. Nixon the other day.

"Our sincere hope that you will find your visit to Egypt a very happy one and that such visit may be repeated in future. There is an old saying that once you drink from the Nile water you are attracted to return to drink from it again."

NEW YORK (AP) — The groans of an economy straining against its limitations are being heard now from almost every direction.

The latest report of tension comes from the banking industry, where a survey shows that losses on commercial loans rose 24 per cent last year to an average of $26 for each $10,000 of business. The average in 1972 was $21.

The survey, by Robert Morris Associates, made up of bank loan and credit officers, shows that total write-offs by the 473 banks surveyed amounted to $374 million. The banks involved in the study represent about 65 per cent of commercial bank loans.

This survey report follows one by Business Week magazine that suggests many utilities are feeling the strain too, and are trying to cover it over from investors by paying out more in dividends than they are earning.

Of 21 utilities studied, it said, actual profits fell short of dividends by $340.3 million.

Earlier signs of deteriorating credit conditions have appeared in stock market margin, installment loans and home mortgages.

In April, the New York Stock Exchange announced, "The quality of security credit deteriorated noticeably." Margin debit in accounts under 40 per cent equity rose to $1.98 billion. And the percentage of such accounts rose to 16 per cent from 12 per cent of all margined portfolios in the previous month.

This was the fourth straight monthly rise of security debt, bringing to $5.4 billion the amount of borrowed money supporting stock prices, many of which, nevertheless, remain badly depressed.

Margin in the stock market is like a down payment in the automobile or housing markets. At the moment, it takes 50 per cent down to become a margin customer of a broker, who lends the buyer the remaining funds.

When the value of those shares falls, however, the broker invariably asks the buyer to put up more margin. The effect of high borrowing rates, therefore, is compounded by falling prices.

The delinquency ratio, or the proportion of repayments that are at least 30 days overdue, continues high in the installment loan category. Early this year it reached 2.69 per cent, a record high.

The Mortgage Bankers Association also has reported record high delinquencies on home mortgages, although the situation in that category is somewhat less clear. Savings and loan associations report "no appreciable" rise in tardy payments.

Dear Editor,

Recently I was confined to the Berger Hospital Intensive Care Unit. It is beyond words of gratitude for the wonderful care that was given to me by the nursing staff and Dr. Anderson while being confined because of my illness. I would also like to take this opportunity to thank the Elmer Clifton Family for making this unit possible for cardiac patients.

I have been in several hospitals and I feel that the nursing staff and emergency care rooms of our local hospital are the greatest. Every department of the Berger Hospital is doing a tremendous job.

We the people of Circleville, should be very proud and appreciative of it and support the hospital in every way possible.

Dear Editor,

We would like to call attention to the perennial Meadow Drive festival to be held soon. Ceremonies will open in a blaze of morning glory with invocation by Elder Berry, with a few selections by Dandelion on the Blue Bells. A dance routine featuring Al Falfa and Mari Juana, and a safari through the jungle are two of the attractions.

Participants on the safari should be cautious, lest a cat nip them. In that event we have plenty of rag weeds for bandages. Bring along your canine and pet-check him at the dog kennel; the boating enthusiasts may tie up at the burr docks, and for evening entertainment the horse weeds will run at Thistle Downs. Refreshments will be provided by the Milk Weed dairy, and streakers beware: If caught we'll let Artie choke you.

Since thistle be our last presentation no admission will be charged since we willow nothing.

An important meeting was set by the Circleville Board of Education to discuss letting a contract to finish construction of an addition to the Walnut St. school building, and creating additional space for eighth graders and high school pupils when school opens in the fall.

Progress was being made toward a school parade or pageant as a feature of the 1934 Pumpkin Show. A parade was desired a year ago, but county educators vetoed the plan.

A new development in Pickaway County's relief, controversy was noted when it was announced that the state examiner, who made the finding alleging the county commissioners illegally spent $16,000 worth of relief funds, would make explanations of his report.

A bright sun looked down on rain-soaked Ohio farm fields today after yesterday's "million-dollar" rainfall that gave promise of widespread improvement to parched crops. The city had .98 inches of rain.

Notices were being sent to members of the Pickaway County Democratic executive committee that a special meeting had been called. Several important issues were to be discussed, although their exact nature was not disclosed.

Speedy Trial Law Challenged

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Ohio's speedy trial law, under which a person arrested must go to trial within 90 days, has been challenged by Hamilton County Prosecutor Simon Leis Jr.

The appeal, filed Tuesday with the 1st Ohio District Court of Appeals, concerns dismissal of an aggravated robbery charge by Hamilton County Common Pleas Judge Robert V. Wood.

Wood dismissed the indictment against John Davis, 27, of Cincinnati, accused of the Feb. 14 robbery of the City Loan and Savings Co. in Silverton. The prosecutor's office said Davis' attorney agreed to the later trial date, then filed a successful motion to quash the indictment.

"Adjusting the air-conditioning in an office is a tricky business."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Acne is such a common condition in adolescents and young adults that its complicated components are usually overlooked.

Acne should not be considered a skin condition alone. Rather, it is a condition where the skin shows the evidence of hormone changes in the adolescent.

The female and male sex hormones that normally are in the blood of all people at all times may not be in proper balance during this period. As boys and girls reach maturity, this balance is stabilized.

Young girls have a small quantity of the male sex hormone, androgen, in their blood. Boys have a small amount of the female hormone, estrogen, in their blood.

When the leveling off and the balancing process is complete, acne, the skin symptom, begins to disappear.

With a better understanding of this cause of acne, treatment is directed at the underlying factors.

The psychological aspects of acne are very important. Whether or not emotional stress plays a role in the production of acne may be disputed. But there is no doubt about the fact that the psychological overtones of acne have deep significance.

The appearance of the skin creates embarrassment and may cause young people to avoid social contact.

Long after the skin becomes clear, the psychological impact may persist. Thus, a great deal of patience, kindness and understanding must go along with routine forms of treatment.

Proper skin hygiene and the avoidance of picking and squeezing of the pustules can prevent the scarring of the face that lingers after the acne is gone.

Concentrated use of antibiotics has been remarkably successful in the control of this recurring condition.

Hormones, taken by mouth and individually prescribed for each case, are of extreme value during the hormone balancing period of adolescence. This difficult transitional period requires, along with medical treatment, parental patience and understanding.

Love Of Gadgets

By JIM BISHOP

Every man is a sucker for something. He may be rational, cautious, intelligent but, in at least one area, he is a superb boob. Once afflicted, it is important that he press on, learning nothing from successive defeats.

In my case, it is gadgets. Long ago, I was the first man on my block to buy an electric razor. It didn't shave whiskers—they were decapitated, but I was thrilled by the plug-in and hum of it. In a subliminal sense, it was almost sexy.

Since those dear dead days, I have bought everything which is guaranteed to do something if you push a button. All of them expire with dead batteries which always turn out to be a peculiar type manufactured in the lower hill country of Madagascar.

Would you believe five cameras? I have a 16 mm. Pathe with zoom lens; a 16 mm. Bell & Howell; a Nikon 1.4; an SX-70 Polaroid and an old, goosy Polaroid for shooting—excuse the expression—relatives.

Last year, the astute Milton Gold-stand gave me a ball warmer. This is a golfing illusion in which three balls are placed in a red canister, where they are heated to 120 degrees. They are then guaranteed to travel 20 yards farther. The only time it worked, tragically, was on the green.

Besides, it is embarrassing to walk into a men's locker room with a ball warmer under your arm. Golfers take one look, and they become Don Rickles.

Take, for example, electric window buttons on the car. Great. I love them. The only one which doesn't function is beside the driver. I am the only luncheon in line at the tollbooth who has to open the door and step out to drop a dime in the basket. The manual rolling down of windows was never that much trouble.

I bought a big, automatic burglar alarm—a German shepherd who cost $200 and gets an "A" in eating. Never, never buy an intelligent dog. A stupid one barks when he hears strange noises outside the house. Charlie Chan dozes between meals and waits to hear the chimes when someone rings the front doorbell. He looks irritated, drags himself slowly up, one leg at a time, emits a hollow cowardly woof, and collapses.

We have air conditioners—the best—which, when the button is pressed, cough, sneeze, emit a long sigh and pour a river of hot air into the house. I have an automatic clock which turns the lawn lights on and off. The damn thing never learned to understand daylight saving time.

Even my watch is automatic. After it hits February 28th, it goes blithely on to the 29th, 30th and 31st. My field glasses are 16-power, excellent for watching one-horsepower horses.

I was suckered into buying a big telescope for looking at the moon. No matter how many times I looked, the big silver ball looked the same. So it shouldn't be a total loss. I made the children look through it. After four looks, they cried when I called them out to look again.

Then I bought an assortment of automatic deep-sea rods. They never caught a marlin, but they're sheer murder on the street if you want to stop a passing Jeep.

In our bedroom, Mrs. B. and I have a color TV set which, by pushing a button, locks the picture in. No matter what channel we try, we get the same picture locked in—something that looks like a runaway electrocardiogram.

Some men have a weakness for booze. Or women. Or gambling. They stand a chance of getting a slight return on their investment. I still collect gadgets. Over the decades, I have collected a fortune in exotic instruments which do nothing. In my closet, I can press a minimum of 40 buttons, and nothing will happen except that the tip of my index finger flattens.

Please do not think that, by writing this, I am cured. I invite all purveyors of push-button devices which do not work to send their junk mail to me. No matter what it is, I'm in the market for it.

I even have a hospital table for reading in bed. I have never gone for the electric blanket because, in bed, I am easily shocked. On the other hand, I might invest in a blanket which makes its own ice.

It is possible for any man to be intelligent, moral, ambitious and farsighted. It is of paramount importance for a man to be nutty about something. Guess who bought the first clock radio which awakens you to the brassy sound of "Stars and Stripes Forever?" Guess who first tossed one into the garbage can?

No matter what you think, I enjoy being off my rocker—especially if it's electric . . .

Goods Ruled Taxable

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Goods manufactured in a foreign country and imported into Ohio still are subject to personal property taxes if stored, the Ohio Supreme Court said today.

A Page Of Opinion

Competitive Improvement

In world trade, among the industrial nations the competitive advantage traditionally has gone to that country which was most successful in holding down its unit labor costs. This was accomplished by lower wages, higher levels of productivity, or both.

For years since World War II manufacturers in Japan, Germany and other nations were able to capitalize to an extent on considerably lower wage levels to give American manufacturers stiff competition in some product lines. The shoe has been moving to the other foot for the last dozen years.

Wage bases have been rising rapidly in Japan, Germany, Britain, Sweden, France and Italy, but productivity increases have been at a much slower pace. Thus, "unit labor costs," or the part of an item's cost contributed by labor, have been rising more rapidly in the other countries than in the United States since the early 1960s.

Two dollar devaluations have helped the U.S. competitive position.

An indication of how dramatic the favorable U.S. ratio may be, all factors taken into account, was the 1973 increase in unit labor costs of 3.1 per cent in the U.S., compared to 171 per cent in Japan as expressed in U.S. dollars.

The President's Promises

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

WITH THE PRESIDENT — Mr. Nixon is making some heady promises to heads of state on his Middle Eastern trip, beginning with his concordat with President Sadat of Egypt. It is assumed that the several Arab leaders understand that many of Nixon's pledges must meet with Congressional approval before they take on substance. It was quite easy for him to get full backing from Congress after laying before it the things he had agreed to do for (and with) the People's Republic of China and Russia, after his triumphant pre-Watergate trips in 1972.

But he will return from his trip to face a Congress that is heavily engaged in the process of trying to impeach him. It is not expected, therefore, that Congress will bend over backwards to cooperate with him — even though he and Dr. Henry Kissinger have worked miracles in this truculent part of the world.

The Cairo communique included several important "ifs" which were ignored by the happy Egyptian press. Phrases meaning in effect, "if Congress approves," were buried here and there in that heady document whose official title is "Principles and Cooperation between Egypt and the United States." But they were smothered in the shouts of the multitudes, the bestowal of medals and other trophies, and the overwhelmingly ecstatic welcome given to Nixon by the men who run Egypt and believe they won the Yom Kippur war.

The promise to beef up Egypt's almost nonexistent nuclear power program will be met. But it is likely that this or the next government in Washington will keep a gimlet eye on how the Sadat or some subsequent Egyptian government utilizes the atomic fuel we will sell them. We failed to do that in the case of India, and one day not long ago the parched earth of that sorry land erupted with a nuclear "device."

What may be the costliest U.S. investment in Egypt was under way for weeks before the signing of the Nixon-Sadat agreement. This is the awesome task we have undertaken to clean up the Suez Canal, which has been inoperative since the 6-Day War of 1967.

They'll Do It Every Time

We have yet to lose a man in this risky work, whose success owes much to the job the U.S. Navy did in Haiphong harbor after the Vietnam armistice.

We expect to have it open for modest-sized shipping in six months. The indication is that the Egyptians, who will operate it once it is clear, will ask U.S. aid in deepening it from 38 to more than 70 feet, to give the new supertankers a short cut to their world markets.

The U.S. "presence" is reasserting itself in the Middle East as a result of the disengagements of fighting forces, promises of expanded trade and the Nixon visit. Unites States Information Services is reopening its Cairo offices,

A stupid one barks when he hears strange noises outside the house. Charlie Chan dozes between meals and waits to hear the chimes when someone rings the front doorbell. He looks irritated, drags himself slowly up, one leg at a time, emits a hollow cowardly woof, and collapses.

We have air conditioners—the best—which, when the button is pressed, cough, sneeze, emit a long sigh and pour a river of hot air into the house. I have an automatic clock which turns the lawn lights on and off. The damn thing never learned to understand daylight saving time.

Even my watch is automatic. After it hits February 28th, it goes blithely on to the 29th, 30th and 31st. My field glasses are 16-power, excellent for watching one-horsepower horses.

I was suckered into buying a big telescope for looking at the moon. No matter how many times I looked, the big silver ball looked the same. So it shouldn't be a total loss, I made the children look through it. After four looks, they cried when I called them out to look again.

Then I bought an assortment of automatic deep-sea rods. They never caught a marlin, but they're sheer murder on the street if you want to stop a passing Jeep.

In our bedroom, Mrs. B. and I have a color TV set which, by pushing a button, locks the picture in. No matter what channel we try, we get the same picture locked in—something that looks like a runaway electrocardiogram.

Some men have a weakness for booze. Or women. Or gambling. They stand a chance of getting a slight return on their investment. I still collect gadgets. Over the decades, I have collected a fortune in exotic instruments which do nothing. In my closet, I can press a minimum of 40 buttons, and nothing will happen except that the tip of my index finger flattens.

Please do not think that, by writing this, I am cured. I invite all purveyors of push-button devices which do not work to send their junk mail to me. No matter what it is, I'm in the market for it.

I even have a hospital table for reading in bed. I have never gone for the electric blanket because, in bed, I am easily shocked. On the other hand, I might invest in a blanket which makes its own ice.

It is possible for any man to be intelligent, moral, ambitious and far-sighted. It is of paramount importance for a man to be nutty about something. Guess who bought the first clock radio which awakens you to the brassy sound of "Stars and Stripes Forever?" Guess who first tossed one into the garbage can?

No matter what you think, I enjoy being off my rocker—especially if it's electric . . .

High Court Upholds Levy Court-Martial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today upheld the court-martial of former Army Capt. Howard B. Levy for urging black enlisted men not to go to Vietnam if ordered to do so.

In doing so, the court upheld the constitutionality of the so-called "general article," which has been a mainstay of American military justice since Revolutionary War days.

Levy had challenged his court-martial on grounds that the article is unconstitutionally vague.

The article, part of the Uniform Code of Military Justice, forbids "conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman" and "all conduct of a nature to bring discredit upon the armed forces."

Justice William H. Rehnquist, writing for the 5 to 3 court majority, said Levy "could have had no reasonable doubt that his published statements urging Negro enlisted men not to go to Vietnam if ordered to do so" were in violation of the challenged article.

"While the members of the military are not excluded from the protection granted by the First Amendment, the different character of the military community and of the military mission require a different application of those protections," Rehnquist wrote.

NORFOLK AND WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY

The Norfolk and Western Railway Company and Penn Central Transportation Company have applied to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio for authority to change the manner of controlling the crossing protection devices on Court and Huston Streets in the City of Circleville, Pickaway County, Ohio. The applicants propose to install special control circuits to control automatically rather than manually the existing flashing light signals and shortarm roadway gates at the Court and Huston street grade crossings. A hearing on this application (Case No. 74-214-R) has been scheduled before the Commission at its offices at 111 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio, at 10:00 a.m. E.D.S.T. on Thursday, August 1, 1974.

Solar Energy Use Expected To Rise

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A TRW Inc. scientist says because natural gas is so cheap it probably will be 15 to 20 years before solar energy becomes competitive with gas for heating and cooling systems.

Dr. Ian Jones of TRW said Tuesday a study prepared by the firm's Systems and Energy division suggests that multifamily apartments may offer the greatest potential for the use of solar energy.

He said solar energy systems for space heating, cooling and for heating water could become a billion-dollar industry by the year 2000.

Jones' remarks were prepared for a symposium of the National Science Foundation in Washington.

The TRW study was completed under the foundation's Research

Applied to National Needs (RANN) program. Similar studies were done by General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Electric.

Jones said the potential uses of solar energy could be increased considerably above the forecasts in the TRW study if "a much more extensive effort (is made) to integrate solar system design with building design to reduce capital costs and to minimize fossil fuel consumption."

If this is done, he said, "it is realistic to achieve a level of solar heating and cooling of buildings that is about four per cent of the national total...by the year 2000."

In many regions, Jones said, solar energy systems now are competitive with electrically heated water and space heating systems.

"However, because natural gas is currently so inexpensive, competitiveness of solar systems with this energy source will probably not be reached for another 15 to 20 years,"

Jones added.

The study says because of preferential electric utility rates, single family residences are not expected to make as wide use of solar heating and cooling as are apartment developments.

Commercial buildings were at the bottom of the list of potential users because they have lower needs for water and space heating.

Jones said some building code revisions will be required if solar energy systems become widely used. He said he sees no technical obstacles but added that if use of solar energy is to become widespread, "the building industry—including lenders, insurers, code agencies, builders, developers and labor organizations—must become involved in solar energy programs at the beginning."

Mother's Running Around

DEAR ABBY: My 62-year-old mother who was recently widowed, has taken to running around with men. She joined some kind of "Senior Swingers Club." Her men friends have been seen by her neighbors and they have begun to talk.

I just can't understand what's come over my mother. She picks up men at the grocery store, at bingo, and at other social events.

She used to be a devoted Christian wife and mother, and my children adore their "Nan," but now she's disgracing our family. I spoke to her about this, and she said she figured she may not be around too many more years, and she wants to enjoy what's left of her life. Isn't this type of activity bad for a woman her age?

I need some advice on how to handle this.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Mother's Running Around

DEAR ABBY: My 62-year-old mother who was recently widowed, has taken to running around with men. She joined some kind of "Senior Swingers Club." Her men friends have been seen by her neighbors and they have begun to talk.

I just can't understand what's come over my mother. She picks up men at the grocery store, at bingo, and at other social events.

She used to be a devoted Christian wife and mother, and my children adore their "Nan," but now she's disgracing our family. I spoke to her about this, and she said she figured she may not be around too many more years, and she wants to enjoy what's left of her life. Isn't this type of activity bad for a woman her age?

I need some advice on how to handle this.

DEAR DESPERATE: A woman who has been a devoted Christian wife and mother doesn't become less of a Christian because she makes new friends and enjoys socializing. It could keep her young and healthy for many

Future Of Atomic Vessel Savannah Clouded By Doubt

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The sleek white NS Savannah, the world's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, lies moored in its home port like a ghost.

Tied up at the waterfront docks with the curving skyline of historic Savannah as a backdrop, she sits in limbo like a sleeping giant which could come alive again.

Powerless now, it is kept running at a minimum level. The water chemistry is being maintained in the reactor so that it doesn't corrode and the reactor could be reactivated.

Devoid of human activity except for two men who check for radioactivity and keep the machinery running, the $80-million ship waits while the federal government and City of Savannah figure out what to do with it.

The government took the ship out of service in 1970 for several reasons. There was a problem getting specialized crewmen; the cost of operation was excessive and a Commerce Department spokesman said "most of what could be learned from the operation of the vessel had been learned."

The ship's nuclear reactor, deep inside, contains radioactivity, although the fuel element has been removed and the ship cannot go anywhere under its own steam.

President Eisenhower conceived the idea of a merchant marine vessel to demonstrate the peaceful uses of the atom. The ship was launched in 1962 amid fanfare and has traveled more than 90,000 miles to foreign ports.

The ship belongs to the U.S. Maritime Administration but the city leases it for $1 a year. It is not open to the public but the city is considering a proposal for a tourist attraction to be known as the Eisenhower Peace Center.

Future Of Atomic Vessel Savannah Clouded By Doubt

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The sleek white NS Savannah, the world's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, lies moored in its home port like a ghost.

Tied up at the waterfront docks with the curving skyline of historic Savannah as a backdrop, she sits in limbo like a sleeping giant which could come alive again.

Powerless now, it is kept running at a minimum level. The water chemistry is being maintained in the reactor so that it doesn't corrode and the reactor could be reactivated.

Devoid of human activity except for two men who check for radioactivity and keep the machinery running, the $80-million ship waits while the federal government and City of Savannah figure out what to do with it.

The government took the ship out of service in 1970 for several reasons. There was a problem getting specialized crewmen; the cost of operation was excessive and a Commerce Department spokesman said "most of what could be learned from the operation of the vessel had been learned."

The ship's nuclear reactor, deep inside, contains radioactivity, although the fuel element has been removed and the ship cannot go anywhere under its own steam.

President Eisenhower conceived the idea of a merchant marine vessel to demonstrate the peaceful uses of the atom. The ship was launched in 1962 amid fanfare and has traveled more than 90,000 miles to foreign ports.

The ship belongs to the U.S. Maritime Administration but the city leases it for $1 a year. It is not open to the public but the city is considering a proposal for a tourist attraction to be known as the Eisenhower Peace Center.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Buckeye Girls State delegates were routed from their beds again early today as a precautionary move resulting from a bomb threat. And officials said the girls would be put through the same routine Friday.

It all results from a letter sent to a Girls State official threatening to blow up a dormitory on the Capital University campus in the early morning hours of either Wednesday, Thursday or Friday.

Legal Problems Hinder OU Hunt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The chairman of the Ohio University Board of Trustees says legal and pension problems have cropped up in the search for an interim university president.

At the same time, William R. Morris speculated Wednesday that an appointment could come within a week. Morris said one hangup is the fact that state law does not provide for appointment of an interim president.

But he said the technicality can be skirted by hiring someone for a specific length of time — to a one-year contract, for example — with the understanding he will be replaced by a permanent appointee later.

Morris said a field of seven prospects for the temporary post has been narrowed to three nominees. He declined to name them because all of them have not been informed of their status.

But he confirmed that Dr. Richard Meiling, Ohio State University vice president for medical affairs, is among the trio. "It's no secret, he said."

The other six are OU deans or professors and the switch from education to administration implies a transfer from the teacher retirement fund to the public employees pension system, Morris said.

"Several of them have that legal problem," he said. And he added Meiling may want to decline any offer based on another "quirk" in the law of succession.

Morris, a Columbus attorney, said

teacher retirement pay may be jeopardized for Meiling unless he remains retired for 60 days.

Sowle has announced he will step down Sept. 1 after a series of springtime student demonstrations over a student workers union and other mass gatherings that brought out the Athens police.

Trustees plan to name an advisory search committee to nominate a permanent successor to Sowle.

Legal Problems Hinder OU Hunt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The chairman of the Ohio University Board of Trustees says legal and pension problems have cropped up in the search for an interim university president.

At the same time, William R. Morris speculated Wednesday that an appointment could come within a week. Morris said one hangup is the fact that state law does not provide for appointment of an interim president.

But he said the technicality can be skirted by hiring someone for a specific length of time — to a one-year contract, for example — with the understanding he will be replaced by a permanent appointee later.

Morris said a field of seven prospects for the temporary post has been narrowed to three nominees. He declined to name them because all of them have not been informed of their status.

But he confirmed that Dr. Richard Meiling, Ohio State University vice president for medical affairs, is among the trio. "It's no secret, he said."

The other six are OU deans or professors and the switch from education to administration implies a transfer from the teacher retirement fund to the public employees pension system, Morris said.

"Several of them have that legal problem," he said. And he added Meiling may want to decline any offer based on another "quirk" in the law of succession.

Morris, a Columbus attorney, said

teacher retirement pay may be jeopardized for Meiling unless he remains retired for 60 days.

Sowle has announced he will step down Sept. 1 after a series of springtime student demonstrations over a student workers union and other mass gatherings that brought out the Athens police.

Trustees plan to name an advisory search committee to nominate a permanent successor to Sowle.

GTE Completes Cable Addition

Completion of a major cable addition for growth in the Williamsport exchange was announced today by General Telephone Co. of Ohio.

William D. Anderson, Circleville customer service manager, said the $25,800 project was designed to upgrade existing services and allow for future growth in the area.

The new cable, which will serve the north and western portions of the exchange, was buried where possible. Portions of the new cable replace existing facilities for maintenance reasons.

"Cable and equipment additions of this type are made according to needs indicated by our studies and forecasts," Anderson said. "This enables the company to have facilities available for customers when needed."

The Williamsport exchange serves a total of 705 telephones in a 53.8-square-mile area of Pickaway and Ross counties.

Hancock, Crusaders On Festival Bill

Herbie Hancock and The Crusaders, two of the top jazz instrumental artists in the country today, will be featured in the upcoming 13th Annual Ohio Valley Jazz Festival, July 12 and 13 at Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium.

Herbie Hancock, the hottest artist in jazz today, will share the Friday evening spotlight along with Gladys Knight and the Pips, The O'Jays, Tower of Power and Donald Byrd.

After long internship with Donald Byrd (also on the Friday night program) and Miles Davis, Herbie formed his own group in 1969.

The composer of "Watermelon Man", "Maiden Voyage" and "Speak Like A Child", Hancock has recently exploded into the pop charts with his best-selling album, "Head Hunters". Appearing in the group will be Bennie Maupin, reeds; Mike Clark, drums; Paul Jackson, bass; and Bill Summers, percussion.

The Crusaders, collectively and individually, have garnered every award available for a musical group, from gold records to Playboy's Musicians' Poll.

SERTOMA SPEAKER—Elias John George spoke to the Circleville Sertoma Club at its Tuesday meeting on the strategic Arab world. He noted that the Arab countries along the Mediterranean Sea act as a buffer against the expansion of Communism into Africa. Lt. Col. Ronald Poole, commanding officer of the Central Ohio Recruiting District, was a guest at the meeting.

Gilligan Administration Denies Tax Increase Planned Later

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Gilligan administration denied emphatically Wednesday that it had any plans for a tax increase after the November election.

Gov. John Gilligan was quoted by an aide as saying, "flat, out, unqualified, unequivocally no. . . Nothing of that kind of under consideration at the present time."

He was responding to a charge by former Gov. James A. Rhodes, the Republican gubernatorial nominee, that overspending by the state Welfare Department is causing the administration to consider a tax hike.

Rhodes said in a statement that Gilligan "is trying to hoodwink the public" by shelving a tax increase until after election day.

"Gilligan's own directors have been talking freely about new taxes and Gilligan himself is on record at several of his town meetings talking about tax increases," the statement said.

Gilligan's aides confirmed that the possibility of a tax increase had been at least mentioned in discussions among the governor's cabinet members.

Sources said Welfare Director Charles Bates told fellow cabinet members he needs more money to run his department.

Motorcycle Brawlers Resting In Hospital

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Four members of the Iron Horsemen motorcycle club are recuperating in a hospital today after a brawl at the Colgan Cafe in Goshen.

Sheriff Donald Watson said he will file no charges until he completes his investigation. Two persons were shot and others were cut and beaten with chains and pipes, he said.

The sheriff said club member Ken McDaniels, 35, of Milford, went for help after he said he was beaten up by locals. McDaniels said the fight started when the locals made fun of the motto on his jacket: "Freedom Seekers."

U.S. Military Team To Visit Egypt

WASHINGTON (AP) — A small U.S. military team will visit Egypt soon "to get some insights" into the October war from the Egyptian side, the Pentagon says.

Officials insist "it is not the plan" for the U.S. team to survey Egypt's weapons needs as a preliminary step to possible arms sales or gifts to the Cairo government.

However, they acknowledge Egyptian officers "may take the opportunity" to tell the Americans what U.S. weapons they might like to obtain.

Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger has said the United States would consider sympathetically any Egyptian request to buy military equipment from the United States. Aides said Schlesinger knows of no such formal request yet.

Russia, which has supplied all of Egypt's planes, tanks, artillery, missiles and ammunition for many years, cut off the flow more than two months ago.

An Egyptian-Russian rift, which first opened two years ago, has reopened in recent months as Egypt and the United States healed their old quarrel amid Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's campaign to bring peace between Arabs and Israelis.

Pentagon officials say the U.S. military team was invited by the Egyptians. It will number fewer than six senior officers, mostly specialists in intelligence and operations.

"They know our military men talked to the Israelis and they evidently want some of the same kind of rapport," one defense official said.

"They probably want to explain to our people the tactics they used and the reasons behind those tactics."

U.S. Air Force and Army generals long have had a close working relationship with the Israeli military. Shortly after the October fighting ended, teams of U.S. air, tank and other experts visited the Sinai and Syrian battlefields on the Israeli side of the line.

Some important Russian gear captured from the Arabs by the Israelis was flown to the United States for close examination. The resulting information on Soviet anti-aircraft missiles, antitank weapons and other arms has proved invaluable, U.S. officers say.

Meanwhile, although Russia still withholds fresh military supplies from Egypt, U.S. intelligence says there are still some 800 to 1,000 Russian advisers, technicians and other Soviet military personnel in Egypt.

Sawhill Confirmed As Energy Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has confirmed John C. Sawhill as the nation's new federal energy chief.

The 87 to 4 vote came Tuesday after a last-minute call by Sen. James L. Abourezk, D-S.D., that the Senate protest against Nixon administration energy policies by turning down Sawhill's nomination.

Sawhill, now in charge of the Federal Energy Office, will become head of the new Federal Energy Administration when that agency officially comes into existence July 27.

A weakening cold front dominated Ohio's weather picture early Thursday after a night of cloudy skies. At dawn some areas were clear but with some heavy fog.

Radar showed showers within the state during the night, but they were widely scattered and generally light. Temperatures dipped into the 60s in all areas except along the Ohio River. Minimum temperatures near the Ohio River have been in the upper 60s and lower 70s.

The morning weather map showed a weak cold front extending from western New York through extreme northern Ohio and northern Indiana to a second low pressure center in southwest Nebraska. The cold front in Ohio will only move a little further south before becoming stationary and weakening further.

SERTOMA SPEAKER—Elias John George spoke to the Circleville Sertoma Club at its Tuesday meeting on the strategic Arab world. He noted that the Arab countries along the Mediterranean Sea act as a buffer against the expansion of Communism into Africa. Lt. Col. Ronald Poole, commanding officer of the Central Ohio Recruiting District, was a guest at the meeting.

Gilligan Administration Denies Tax Increase Planned Later

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Gilligan administration denied emphatically Wednesday that it had any plans for a tax increase after the November election.

Gov. John Gilligan was quoted by an aide as saying, "flat, out, unqualified, unequivocally no. . . Nothing of that kind of under consideration at the present time."

He was responding to a charge by former Gov. James A. Rhodes, the Republican gubernatorial nominee, that overspending by the state Welfare Department is causing the administration to consider a tax hike.

Rhodes said in a statement that Gilligan "is trying to hoodwink the public" by shelving a tax increase until after election day.

"Gilligan's own directors have been talking freely about new taxes and Gilligan himself is on record at several of his town meetings talking about tax increases," the statement said.

Gilligan's aides confirmed that the possibility of a tax increase had been at least mentioned in discussions among the governor's cabinet members.

Sources said Welfare Director Charles Bates told fellow cabinet members he needs more money to run his department.

Motorcycle Brawlers Resting In Hospital

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Four members of the Iron Horsemen motorcycle club are recuperating in a hospital today after a brawl at the Colgan Cafe in Goshen.

Sheriff Donald Watson said he will file no charges until he completes his investigation. Two persons were shot and others were cut and beaten with chains and pipes, he said.

The sheriff said club member Ken McDaniels, 35, of Milford, went for help after he said he was beaten up by locals. McDaniels said the fight started when the locals made fun of the motto on his jacket: "Freedom Seekers."

U.S. Military Team To Visit Egypt

WASHINGTON (AP) — A small U.S. military team will visit Egypt soon "to get some insights" into the October war from the Egyptian side, the Pentagon says.

Officials insist "it is not the plan" for the U.S. team to survey Egypt's weapons needs as a preliminary step to possible arms sales or gifts to the Cairo government.

However, they acknowledge Egyptian officers "may take the opportunity" to tell the Americans what U.S. weapons they might like to obtain.

Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger has said the United States would consider sympathetically any Egyptian request to buy military equipment from the United States. Aides said Schlesinger knows of no such formal request yet.

Russia, which has supplied all of Egypt's planes, tanks, artillery, missiles and ammunition for many years, cut off the flow more than two months ago.

An Egyptian-Russian rift, which first opened two years ago, has reopened in recent months as Egypt and the United States healed their old quarrel amid Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's campaign to bring peace between Arabs and Israelis.

Among other things, these teams studied the effects of weapons on both sides with an eye to possible modifications in U.S. arms so they would be more effective and survive better against Russian-made equipment.

Mayors Open Annual Meet

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The 42nd annual meeting of the U.S. Conference of Mayors opened today with the city chief executives urging Congress to break a logjam of urban legislation.

About 350 mayors were expected to attend sessions that will run through next Wednesday.

It was expected to be one of the most politically active of the annual meetings in years, coming in the wake of Watergate and with five mayors running for the U.S. Senate and another half-dozen campaigning for the House.

Committees begin work on 44 proposed resolutions, many seeking more federal financial help for such programs as community development, public transportation, housing and job training.

In advance of the meeting, a sample of big city mayors said municipal finance in the face of inflation is their biggest problem.

Contract For Tennis Courts Approved By Circleville Board Of Education

Final approval for the tennis courts at the high school and South Court Street Elementary was given by the Circleville Board of Education at Wednesday's regular meeting. Only one bid was received for the five courts, and that came from Van Camp Contracting Company. The board approved the total expenditure of $37,161 including two substitutions in construction.

The construction price includes ten-foot fencing at the ends and four-foot fencing at the sides. Four gates are provided for in the architect's specifications, two at each extreme end to keep vehicles off the courts. Superintendent Fritz Jacobs talked to the board concerning making the courts open to public use at times when they are not in use by the school.

Both the architect and the contractor strongly recommended the use of a six-inch asphalt base rather than the cheaper stone and asphalt base. The board agreed with the recommendation since the additional expense was only $350 and the improved base will be less susceptible to cracking. The contract also specified that the courts be finished within 60 days.

Resignations from three certified and three non-certified staff members were accepted by the board and employment approved for seven new teachers and 11 non-certified personnel.

Connie Jo Eisel, teacher at South Court Street Elementary, submitted her resignation due to her husband's employment in Colorado and they will be moving to that area. Similar reasons were given by Janice Marshall, developmental reading teacher. The resignation of Evelyn Ralston, junior high guidance counselor, was accepted since she is applying for disability. Jacobs informed the board of the state law governing such situations. The employee must be carried by the school system on sick leave until all the sick leave accumulated has been used and then if disability is approved the benefit payments begin.

The following certified personnel were approved for employment for the 1974-75 school year: Beth A. Smith with a bachelor of science degree from Kent State University and no experience employed as an elementary teacher; Karen Adkins with a bachelor of science degree from Malone College and 11 years' experience employed as an elementary teacher; Gertrude Young with a masters degree from Ohio University and no experience employed 3/4 time as elementary and junior high instrumental and vocal music teacher; Pamela Makeever with a bachelor of arts degree from Capital University and no experience employed as an elementary teacher; Roger W. Born with a masters degree from Wright State University and 11 years' experience employed as an elementary principal; William Gray with a masters degree from Xavier University and eight years' experience employed to teach mathematics, health and physical education.

Employment was confirmed for Carolyn Herel as elementary librarian. She had not been previously employed because her certification had not yet been received. She has been with the city schools for four years and has five years' training.

Resignations from non-certified employees were accepted as follows: Clyde Lochbaum as school bus driver; Marjorie Phebus as school bus driver; Joanne Schlegler as cook at the high school. Mrs. Schlegler was employed during the meeting as a secretary at Mound Street Elementary. She has three years' experience credit on the salary scale.

Ronald Malone's resignation as assistant junior high track coach was accepted by the board. He had stated the duties with the track team interfered with his attendance to graduate school.

The following non-certified people were hired: Harold Mumaw for summer custodial work effective June 20 and as needed to a maximum of 40 hours per week at the rate of $2.43 per hour; Lois Cole and Bonnie Morrison as summer typists not to exceed eight hours per day; Duhnese McCain as study hall monitor at the junior high school; Shirley Widdig and Mary Kathryn Dayhoff as school bus drivers; Jeff Kiser, Clyde Lochbaum, Robert Liston, Bruce Liston and Clarence Happeney as substitute bus drivers; Anna Allen from half-time to full-time cook at the high school.

The assignment of Gloria Simson as teacher aide was changed from six hours to three hours per day.

Approval was granted for employment of William Gray with a supplemental contract as seventh and eighth grade football coach.

The salary for part-time custodial work during the regular school year was established.

Advertising for the budget hearing was approved in accordance with state law. The board set the advertising date on July 1 and the hearing on July 11 which meets the state requirement of advertising ten days prior to the hearing.

A new refrigerator to replace an old one at Atwater Elementary was approved for purchase from Mac's. The 19.3 cubic foot Westinghouse model including discount and trade-in of $10 will cost $340.

Attendance to professional meetings were approved as follows: Betty Rickey to "Home Nursing" at the Red Cross Headquarters in Columbus on July 22 and 23; Dannie Fouts to "Metric System Institute" at Malone College in Canton, July 29 through Aug. 2; Gary Dean to "Advanced Marching Band Workshop" at Otterbein College, July 1-3.

The non-certified work year schedules and holidays were approved as recommended by the superintendent.

Specifications for the blacktopping at the Corwin Street side of the junior high building were accepted by the board as submitted by the Van Camp Contracting Company. The cost will be $866 for resurfacing the area where dangerous and unsightly cracks are prevalent.

Robert E. Dumm's bid of $797.30 for furnishing and installing formica, metal sink rims and particle board for counter tops in the junior high home economics kitchen was accepted by the board.

A final textbook adoption for the 1974-75 school year was made. The "Crop Production" book by Delorit, Greub and Ahlgren and published by Prentice-Hall in 1974 was adopted for agriculture I classes.

Short term investments as recommended by the clerk and superintendent were approved and the closing date for the Wayne Township property announced as June 24. Insurance for the third driver education car with the Hummel and Plum agency was approved at a cost of $28.

Superintendent Jacobs reported to the board on the present status of personnel for the fall. He said he now had one known teaching vacancy and was working on applications for a secondary supervisor and a guidance counselor for the junior high.

He reminded the board that July 10 is the deadline for resignations.

The meeting was adjourned until 1 p.m. July 2 for consideration of additional personnel recommendations and anything else that may need board attention. The next regularly scheduled meeting is 8 p.m. July 11.

The Rt. Rev. John McGill Krumm, D.D., Bishop of The Episcopal Diocese of Southern Ohio, will be conducting his annual visitation of St. Philip's Episcopal Church Saturday evening and Sunday morning.

A parish carry-in dinner with Bishop Krumm will begin 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the Parish Hall. On Sunday Bishop Krumm will be present at both the 8 a.m. Holy Communion and the 9:30 a.m. family service. During the present family service he will preside at the Baptism of several infants, confirm with the laying on of hands young people and adults who are renewing their Christian commitments, and will preach and celebrate the Holy Eucharist.

Bishop Krumm was consecrated as the sixth Bishop of the Diocese of Southern Ohio in March 1971. He earned his doctorate from Yale University in 1948, and has served as Dean of the Cathedral in Los Angeles, Chaplain and instructor at Columbia University, and Rector of The Church of the Ascension in New York City, prior to his election as Bishop. Dr. Krumm will be serving as host and chairman of the Agenda Committee for the November Plenary Meeting of the Consultation of Church Union in Cincinnati. The Union is composed of nine major denominations in the United States which are exploring possible union of their churches.

Dayton Passes Gun Bills

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Dayton City Commission passed two gun control ordinances Wednesday night, following three weeks of public debate.

A measure banning the sale, manufacture and possession of "Saturday night specials" passed unanimously. It took effect immediately.

The second ordinance requires registration of handguns and issuance of identification cards for persons purchasing them. It passed by a 3-2 vote.

The registration ordinance takes effect July 19, but provides a grace period until Oct. 1 to allow gunowners to register their firearms.

Approval was granted for employment of William Gray with a supplemental contract as seventh and eighth grade football coach.

The salary for part-time custodial work during the regular school year was established.

Advertising for the budget hearing was approved in accordance with state law. The board set the advertising date on July 1 and the hearing on July 11 which meets the state requirement of advertising ten days prior to the hearing.

A new refrigerator to replace an old one at Atwater Elementary was approved for purchase from Mac's. The 19.3 cubic foot Westinghouse model including discount and trade-in of $10 will cost $340.

Attendance to professional meetings were approved as follows: Betty Rickey to "Home Nursing" at the Red Cross Headquarters in Columbus on July 22 and 23; Dannie Fouts to "Metric System Institute" at Malone College in Canton, Ohio July 29 through Aug. 2; Gary Dean to "Advanced Marching Band Workshop" at Otterbein College, July 1-3.

The non-certified work year

schedules and holidays were approved as recommended by the superintendent.

Specifications for the blacktopping at the Corwin Street side of the junior high building were accepted by the board as submitted by the Van Camp Contracting Company. The cost will be $866 for resurfacing the area where dangerous and unsightly cracks are prevalent.

Robert E. Dumm's bid of $797.30 for furnishing and installing formica, metal sink rims and particle board for counter tops in the junior high home economics kitchen was accepted by the board.

A final textbook adoption for the 1974-75 school year was made. The "Crop Production" book by Delorit, Greub and Ahlgren and published by Prentice-Hall in 1974 was adopted for agriculture I classes.

Short term investments as recommended by the clerk and superintendent were approved and the closing date for the Wayne Township property announced as June 24. Insurance for the third driver education car with the Hummel and Plum agency was approved at a cost of $28.

Superintendent Jacobs reported to the board on the present status of personnel for the fall. He said he now had one known teaching vacancy and was working on applications for a secondary supervisor and a guidance counselor for the junior high.

He reminded the board that July 10 is the deadline for resignations.

The meeting was adjourned until 1 p.m. July 2 for consideration of additional personnel recommendations and anything else that may need board attention. The next regularly scheduled meeting is 8 p.m. July 11.

Bishop To Visit St. Philip's

The Rt. Rev. John McGill Krumm, D.D., Bishop of The Episcopal Diocese of Southern Ohio, will be conducting his annual visitation of St. Philip's Episcopal Church Saturday evening and Sunday morning.

A parish carry-in dinner with Bishop Krumm will begin 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the Parish Hall. On Sunday Bishop Krumm will be present at both the 8 a.m. Holy Communion and the 9:30 a.m. family service. During the present family service he will preside at the Baptism of several infants, confirm with the laying on of hands young people and adults who are renewing their Christian commitments, and will preach and celebrate the Holy Eucharist.

A reception for the bishop and new communicants will follow the family service in the Parish Hall. The public is cordially invited to attend either of the Sunday services and to meet Bishop Krumm.

Bishop Krumm was consecrated as the sixth Bishop of the Diocese of Southern Ohio in March 1971. He earned his doctorate from Yale University in 1948, and has served as Dean of the Cathedral in Los Angeles, Chaplain and instructor at Columbia University, and Rector of The Church of the Ascension in New York City, prior to his election as Bishop. Dr. Krumm will be serving as host and chairman of the Agenda Committee for the November Plenary Meeting of the Consulation of Church Union in Cincinnati. The Union is composed of nine major denominations in the United States which are exploring possible union of their churches.

Dayton Passes Gun Bills

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Dayton City Commission passed two gun control ordinances Wednesday night, following three weeks of public debate.

A measure banning the sale, manufacture and possession of "Saturday night specials" passed unanimously. It took effect immediately.

The second ordinance requires registration of handguns and issuance of identification cards for persons purchasing them. It passed by a 3-2 vote.

The registration ordinance takes effect July 19, but provides a grace period until Oct. 1 to allow gunowners to register their firearms.

Man Will Trade Future For Cash

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Ron McIver's future is up for sale.

He's auctioning his eventual services as a small-town doctor in exchange for a subsidy that would get him through medical school.

His contract offer is being made to many of the rural communities which the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare identifies as needing general practitioners but too poor to guarantee a prosperous medical practice.

"The idea isn't new," McIver said. "The Army, Navy and U.S. Health Service will pay your medical school

Anderson Defends Press Role

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Columnist Jack Anderson said critics who accuse the press of conducting the Watergate investigation should be reminded that 98 per cent of the investigation is being done by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"The FBI isn't out to get the President and neither is the press," said the investigative columnist.

He said newsmen do not delight in writing about scandal in government, but would be derelict in their duty if they did not.

Anderson, speaking at Cincinnati Xavier University, noted that most news is "unusual" and the public should understand the broad picture.

"Somehow the public has to be reminded that news is the unusual. As long as people are reading about corruption in government in newspapers, then they should be thankful because it's unusual.

"They should be grateful that we haven't yet come to reporting that good things are happening in the White House."

Anderson said he has not given up on American democracy as a system and hopes others do not.

"I think our founding fathers wanted the press to be a watchdog on the government," he said, adding that he believes the press has fulfilled the role.

Proposed Merger Of Schools Studied

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A meeting to consider a proposed merger between three Summit County and three Stark County school districts will be held July 8.

The proposed merger between Coventry, East Franklin and Green local districts in Summit County, and Northwest, Tuslaw and Fairless districts in Stark County, is to meet state vocational education standards.

Arkansas River Is Navigable

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas River, once muddy, meandering and shallow, became a fully navigable stream from the Mississippi River to near Tulsa, Okla., in 1969.

The Corps of Engineers project to make the river navigable cost $1.2 billion.

tuition if you agree to work for them a while after graduation."

"But I am not the Army type, and you don't have any choice where you go when you're finished with school. The obvious thing to do is to pick the town I want," he said.

He said his plan also would give him greater mental freedom while in school. He accused medical colleges of programming students to become lucrative big-city specialists rather than rural family doctors.

McIver, who lives in Madison, Wis., says he figures his taste in lifestyle is sufficiently modest to assure him comfort as an osteopath in a community of 600-1,200 population. He said he wants a quiet town with pleasant people and a lake beside which he, his wife and daughter can camp and fish.

Thus the approximately 75 needy towns he has chosen from medical society rosters are found in the lake-dotted states of Wisconsin, Maine, Minnesota, Washington and Oregon.

McIver, a native of Greensboro, N.C., has taken premedical courses at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, from which he recently was graduated.

He said replies to his letters have run the range from enthusiasm to "a couple of puzzled responses: 'Is this guy serious?'"

Of 30 Wisconsin towns he has contacted since he began his search four months ago, 20 have responded with positive curiosity. He is negotiating with four in particular, he said.

He asks that his sponsor provide tuition, fees and a monthly stipend for living expenses. He said he has been accepted at Michigan State University and the Kansas City College of Osteopathic Medicine.

"I'll guarantee a year of service for each year in school," he said.

The only fringe benefit he insists upon is that there be a pleasant body of water nearby.

"I can sit and watch it and fish in it," he said. "I am not a powerboat man."

Ohioans Reminded About Fireworks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans are reminded that use and sale of fireworks is banned in the state except under controlled conditions and by authorized persons.

Carl Jones, assistant state fire marshal, said since 1972 the Ohio Revised Code has prohibited fireworks displays except at public fairs.

He said the code allows sale of pop pistol paper and plastic caps as long as they do not exceed a maximum number of grains used in making the compound.

The Circleville Herald, Thursday June 20, 1974
Where's Your Copying Machine?

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Copying machines are as familiar in the modern office as water coolers. Sometimes, however, they are placed in odd locations and some service representatives at Xerox Corp. have found their job more than routine.

One man answers service calls for a desktop copier installed in the ladies' room at an Indiana steel mill. A secretary makes sure the coast is clear. She hangs a "do not disturb" sign on the door while the service representative is checking the machine.

Another technician services a copier at a nudist camp in rural Indiana. He wears a business suit and a red face. One of the nudists said that he walks through their camp like a streaker in reverse.

Landslides during the construction of the Panama Canal destroyed some 200 miles of railway track and dumped 90 million cubic feet of material into the waterway, the National Geographic Society says.

"The FBI isn't out to get the President and neither is the press," said the investigative columnist. He said newsmen do not delight in writing about scandal in government, but would be derelict in their duty if they did not.

Anderson, speaking at Cincinnati Xavier University, noted that most news is "unusual" and the public should understand the broad picture. "Somehow the public has to be reminded that news is the unusual. As long as people are reading about corruption in government in newspapers, then they should be thankful because it's unusual. "They should be grateful that we haven't yet come to reporting that good things are happening in the White House."

Anderson said he has not given up on American democracy as a system and hopes others do not. "I think our founding fathers wanted the press to be a watchdog on the government," he said, adding that he believes the press has fulfilled the role.

Where's Your Copying Machine?

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Copying machines are as familiar in the modern office as water coolers. Sometimes, however, they are placed in odd locations and some service representatives at Xerox Corp. have found their job more than routine. One man answers service calls for a desktop copier installed in the ladies' room at an Indiana steel mill. A secretary makes sure the coast is clear. She hangs a "do not disturb" sign on the door while the service representative is checking the machine. Another technician services a copier at a nudist camp in rural Indiana. He wears a business suit and a red face. One of the nudists said that he walks through their camp like a streaker in reverse.

Landslides during the construction of the Panama Canal destroyed some 200 miles of railway track and dumped 90 million cubic feet of material into the waterway, the National Geographic Society says.

Heart Attack Victim Revived

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—A heart attack, a slow fall to the floor. He was dead—no pulse, no respiration. Dead.

That was April 1. But 49 days later that same man walked through graduation ceremonies at Ohio Northern University graciously accepting a standing ovation from his law school colleagues as he was handed his sheepskin.

Dead. Then alive again. And now studying to pass a late summer bar exam—that's the bizarre, but true story of 57-year-old Thomas Zoller of Tiffin.

What's death? "No sensation whatsoever," Zoller said. "It was just as if someone had turned off a light bulb."

In 1971, he decided he'd had enough of a family manufacturing business, an enterprise he'd been in since youth. Egged on by family and friends, he chose to tackle academia once again. He was accepted by the law school 35 years after being graduated from Heidelberg College.

With commencement two months away, Zoller lunched with a doctor friend. It was during the meal that Zoller leaned over as if to reach a fallen napkin, but fell to the floor.

The doctor and another physician from a neighboring table knelt over him and began mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and exterior chest massage.

They found no traces of a pulse or any respiration from Zoller despite attempts to revive him for 10 minutes. On the way to the hospital, the ambulance attendants continued the procedure.

At the hospital, doctors told his wife that Zoller was dead on arrival. About 15 minutes later, a bewildered attendant returned to inform her that her husband was alive again, thanks to a 400-volt current flashed through his lifeless body and relentless efforts by the doctors.

When he came to in an oxygen tent in the intensive care unit, doctors surrounded him, quizzing him on his present and past life to check for any memory blanks. Apparently there were none.

Three weeks later, he was back in school—much to the surprise of his classmates and professors.

"I don't recall anything whatsoever from the time I started to hit the floor until I came to in the intensive care room," Zoller said.

As for living again, Zoller said he is very grateful. "Without getting sticky and philosophical, I do wonder—Why me?"

He estimates the odds as a million-to-one for his regaining life after the heart attack. "I think it was just a matter of being in the right place at the right time" when doctors were present, he said.

Changes Urged
In Broadcasting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate passage of a bill changing federal requirements on radio and television stations has been urged by the measure's sponsor, Rep. Clarence Brown, R—Ohio.

Brown said Tuesday the bill, now before a subcommittee of the Senate Communications Committee, includes a provision which would require broadcasters to continually survey listeners about station operations.

Under present law, he said, stations must ascertain community problems only once during a three-year license period.

Police Levy
Rejected 2nd Time

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Voters in Butler County's Union Township defeated a 1.5-mill police operating levy for the second time Tuesday.

The levy which needed a 55 per cent plurality, received a favorable vote of 677-650.

SALT CREEK VALLEY GRANGE

Nearly fifty members and guests attended the meeting of the Salt Creek Valley Grange held Tuesday evening with members of Scioto Valley Grange present to conduct the program.

The business session was conducted by Paul Dunkle, with reports by officers and committee chairmen. Rebecca Timmons reminded members of the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile on Friday at which time the Grange will host the canteen.

The next meeting of the organization will be July 2, at which time the Ceres of the Ohio State Grange will be present to present the certificates to members who have served the order for twenty-five years.

The program for the evening was presented by the visiting grange and directed by Mrs. Ethel Siegel, lecturer. Nine members assisted in the program which was devoted to important days in June.

During the evening, winning entrants in the poster contest held on a county level were presented with awards from the Pomona Grange. Receiving awards were: Scott Wolfe, first; Vanessa Armstrong, second; Susan and Melissa Armstrong, third.

Ohio EPA Eyes Smokestack Curbs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Environmental Protection Agency is conducting a four-day school to train workers to stop excessive emissions from smokestacks.

The EPA said in a statement the aim of the program is to locate industries needing to step up pollution control programs.

Trained smoke readers can testify as experts in court, the EPA said.

The class, for 35 persons, includes indoor instruction and four days in the field. The course began Tuesday.

LE Blanked On 3-Hitter

Logan Elm was silenced by pitcher White of Fairfield Union as he led his team to a 4-0 whitewash of the Braves in Mid-State Summer League play Wednesday.

White limited LE to three hits, singles by Scott Pontius, Chuck Cave, and Ken Fouch, as he fanned nine and walked five.

Derek Morris tossed a six-hitter for the Braves, fanning nine and walking five.

The Braves play Fisher Catholic in a league tilt Friday at 6 p.m. on the LE diamond.

Four Proves Victor In Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It was Four over Deuce Wednesday night.

Stud poker? No, that was the 1-2 finish in the feature race at Scioto Downs.

Four took the lead at the three-quarter pole and went on to post a 3½-length victory, paying $11.20, $6.20 and $3.20. Deuce returned $6.40 and $4.60 for second and Joyce C., $2.80 for show.

The 5-9 daily double combination of K.D. Time and Mister Poppo was worth $44.

Georgia Grey Wins River Downs Feature

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Red Slugger, with Homero Hidalgo aboard, is top weighted today with 122 pounds in the featured eighth race at River. The six furlong contest has a purse of $2,500.

Georgia Grey, a 44-1 shot, won the feature Wednesday and paid $88.40, $11.60 and $3.20. Len Lee placed, $3 and $2.40 and Cub Rum, third, $2.60.

Expos Again Stop Reds, 4-2

CINCINNATI (AP) — Montreal Expo fans still wince at the mention of Mike Marshall's name, but John Montague is easing the pain.

The 26-year-old Vietnam veteran who saw his road to the big leagues blocked by the Baltimores Orioles Big Four has emerged as Montreal's major find of 1974.

"We just took him on a look basis," said Manager Gen Mauch after Montague's superb relief job nailed down a 4-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

"He was kind of overlooked until he came to spring training and threw a ton of strikes," said Mauch.

"He's just been outstanding for us," added Mauch.

Montague who labored in the Baltimore minor league system for four years, is making the most of his promotion. His 1.25 earned run average for 36 innings is best on the club.

"I'm not overpowering so I just try to throw strikes," he said. Strikes were all the Reds got as the rookie hurler choked off a seventh inning by retiring three straight batters with men on first and second and none out.

He finished up with three shutout innings of one-hit ball.

"He earned a job this spring by not beating himself," said Mauch. Montague said opportunity knocked when the Expos traded Marshall to the Los Angeles Dodgers for Willie Davis.

"Nobody's going to take Marshall's place. But his leaving was a big break for me. It left a spot," said Montague. The openings never came while he was with the Baltimore organization.

"I went to spring training three years with the Orioles and pitched maybe 13 innings in all. They just didn't need another starter. Not with Dave McNally, Mike Cuellar, Jim Palmer and Pat Dobson as their starters," he said.

Montague's save salted down the victory for starter Mike Torrez, now 7-4. "Our bullpen has been the most consistent part of our game," said Mauch.

A bases-loaded single by Ron Hunt provided the tie-breaking run in the fourth inning. Victimized was Don Gullett, 7-4, whose five-game winning streak was snapped.

It was the Expos first win ever over the young fireballing lefty.

Ex-Red Hal Breeden doubled in a run in the first and Ken Singleton slapped a single to score Breeden.

Both teams had an off-day today. The Expos open a weekend series at St. Louis while the Reds host the torrid Atlanta Braves.

Expos Again Stop Reds, 4-2

CINCINNATI (AP) — Montreal Expo fans still wince at the mention of Mike Marshall's name, but John Montague is easing the pain.

Crampton Defends American Golf Title

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — "Fate," said Bruce Crampton, "has been different to me this year."

"Not unkind. Just different."

Crampton, the defending champion in the $170,000 American Golf Classic, came into this tournament a year ago as the game's leading money winner and holder of three titles for the season.

He went on to make this one his fourth victory of the year, finished the season with $274,000 in winnings and became the game's fifth $1 million career winner. It was, by far, the best season of his 17-year career.

He hasn't won this year. He hasn't even threatened very seriously. He ranks 23rd on the current money list with $54,000.

But the sturdily-built, 38-year-old Australian declines to offer a complaint.

"If I'm 23rd on the money list, then only 22 men in the world are playing better than I am. That's not too bad. The amount I won last year has been bettered by only one man in history. Only four men have won more for a career."

"I can't complain," he emphasized today before teeing off on the 7,180-yard, par-70 Firestone Country Club course in the first round of the 72-hole chase for a $34,000 first prize.

"Really, I haven't had a bad year. It might seem that way when compared with last year, but I'm reasonably well pleased with my play. I've made a few mistakes from time to time, but, truth to tell, I made a few mistakes last year, too."

"There has been no really big thing that has affected me," he said, "but a lot of little things have had their impact on me."

Among them is loneliness.

Crampton has long been noted as a loner. He doesn't often mix with the other players. He keeps to himself, to his business on the course and to his motel room. He usually eats alone.

And, for the first time in several years he's traveling alone. Wife Joan is expecting their second child. They haven't been able to travel with him.

"It makes a very real, very big difference," Crampton said.

"I've found it more difficult to reach a peak."

Bob Roll Pre-Seniors Golf Winner

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — After playing erratically most of the day, Bob Roll finished with three straight birdies and added a fourth on the first hole of a sudden death playoff Wednesday to win the 1974 Ohio Pre-Seniors golf tournament.

The Greenville advertising man sank a 14-foot putt on the first extra hole to defeat Dr. Paul Krummel of Cincinnati, who barely missed a 20-footer for a bird.

Roll, the first day leader, started out Wednesday with three bogies and a double-bogey on the front nine and then carded another double-bogey on the 14th hole before he settled down and finished out with a par and three birdies for a 73 to finish regulation play in a tie with Krummel at 147.

Krummel, a dentist, matched a birdie on the back nine with a bogey on the front nine for a 72, the only par round of the tournament on the tough, 6,510-yard Zanesville Country Club course. Both golfers played in the morning and had to wait five hours for the rest of the field to finish. Play was delayed about an hour in the afternoon by a heavy downpour.

Dick Quinn of Zanesville made a run at the championship but blew it by three putting the 18th hole for a bogey 5 and a 148 total for 36 holes.

The championship was the first for Roll in a statewide amateur event since he won the Ohio Juniors in 1948.

Derek Morris tossed a six-hitter for the Braves, fanning nine and walking five.

The Braves play Fisher Catholic in a league tilt Friday at 6 p.m. on the LE diamond.

GOLF OUTING—Bud Hritz prepares to boom off the first tee at Pickaway Country Club Wednesday during a golf, fishing, horseshoe, and steak-eating outing sponsored by the Community United Methodist Men. Special guest of the first annual event was Tom Barrington, former Ohio State University and New Orleans Saints running back now associated with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Watching Hritz get ready to zip the ball are, from the left, Dick Plum, Bill Stout, Barrington, and the Rev. David Frazier, minister of the church. They all served on the organizational committee. The outing was attended by 56 men.

K.C. Blanks Milwaukee, 2-0

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
George Scott ruined a perfectly good evening for Steve Busby Wednesday night. The Milwaukee first baseman walked on a 3-2 count, Busby's rare moment of imperfection, and thus spoiled a perfect game by the Kansas City pitcher. Scott was the only baserunner Busby allowed during a 2-0 no-hitter, first of the 1974 baseball season and the second of his brief career. "I didn't make a whole lot of bad pitches and made them hit the ball," said Busby, who received excellent fielding support en route to his beauty. Two catches by right fielder Al Cowens and a sparkling play by second baseman Cookie Rojas preserved the no-hitter. With one out in the second inning, Darrell Porter hit a long drive to right center which Cowens snared on the run. With two out in the fourth, Cowens raced into the same territory to flag down a drive by Scott. With two out in the eighth, Bob Hansen hit a hard ground ball headed toward right field, but Rojas intercepted it with a diving, whirl-and-throw play. "That was the play that made the whole game," said Busby. "That was super. I can't recall him doing that since I've been here with this club, diving for a ball hit that far from him and coming up with it." Busby, who pitched a no-hitter against Detroit as a rookie last year, thought Wednesday night's game was better. In the other American League games, the Texas Rangers beat the Detroit Tigers 4-2 in 11 innings; the Baltimore Orioles nipped the Minnesota Twins 6-5; the Chicago White Sox pounded the Cleveland Indians 15-4; the New York Yankees trimmed the California Angels 2-1 and the Boston Red Sox nipped the Oakland A's 2-1 in 11 innings. Tigers 4, Rangers 2 Ed Brinkman knocked in the tie-breaking run with an 11thinning double, pushing Detroit over Texas. Orioles 6, Twins 5 Brooks Robinson drove in three runs and Earl Williams drove in two, leading Baltimore over Minnesota.

Walt Kennedy Definitely To Quit

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Kennedy, National Basketball Association commissioner for the past 11 years, has made it clear to the league's owners that he will not continue in the position beyond his current five-year contract, which expires June 1, 1975. "Under no circumstances will I remain as commissioner beyond the termination of my present contract," an admittedly upset Kennedy said Wednesday after the NBA Board of Governors had met for nine hours at an unprecedented Executive Session and failed to elect Alan Rothenberg or Henry Steinman as his successor. "I made that point very clear to them," said Kennedy, who in 1973 announced that he planned to retire in 1975, giving the owners two years to find a replacement. The executive session included only the 18 owners and excluded Kennedy for most of the time—at his request. When the owners recessed until today, they scurried out without issuing a statement.

Kennedy appeared stunned that a decision was not reached. He said that each time the owners called him in, he asked them for a statement, but they would only say, "We are still talking." The owners did not tell him how many votes were taken, what the results were if there were any votes and not even whether Rothenberg, 35, or Steinman, 41, or both attended the meeting. But it was learned that Steinman was only one vote shy of gaining the necessary 14 votes for election from the 18-member board, and that both candidates—both Los Angeles lawyers—did attend and were questioned for about one hour. Kennedy has seen the league grow from nine to 18 teams and prosper from a current $9 million television contract during his reign.

Dave Berlet Proves Star In Trapshoot

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — Dave Berlet of New Knoxville, Ohio, who along with his brother Ned of Wapakoneta, Ohio, form one of the best teams in trapshooting, was a star in his own right Wednesday. Berlet broke 250 straight targets to win the opening 16-yard event in the Preliminary Day of the 88th annual Ohio State Tournament. He had 100 straight in the regular race and then, barely beating the darkness, 150 straight in a shootoff. That was one target better than the 149 shootoff score posted by Arden Kaufman of Berlin, Ohio. "I have broken 250 straight before, but I've never made 500," Berlet said after his victory. "I have been over 400 a couple of times." The 32-year-old maintenance man of the Goodyear Co. in St. Marys is attending his 18th state shoot. He said he didn't shoot during the winter but from May 1 on "I shoot quite a bit." He had a long wait Wednesday in getting on the trap-line as a three-hour power failure in the city of Vandalia halted action shortly after the first squads got started.

Anybody home? Who's on first? Why? Don't ask. Even Abbott and Costello couldn't have explained this mess. With a daffiness that brought back memories of those wild Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants, the new, improved Los Angeles Dodgers and San Francisco Giants elevated the art of baserunning to new highs. Or, depending on your point of view, dumped it down to new lows. Things like San Diego rookie Dan Spillner's one-hit 1-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs were almost overlooked, as were the "commonplace" victories by Montreal, 4-2 over Cincinnati; Atlanta, 5-0 over New York; and Philadelphia, 5-4 over Houston. In the first inning of the Dodgers' game in Pittsburgh Wednesday night, which the Pirates won 7-3, Lee Lacy of Los Angeles was on third, Jimmy Wynn on second and Ron Cey on first, as Jerry Reuss fired a two-out, full-count pitch to Joe Ferguson. Strike three? Ferguson thought so. So did catcher Manny Sanguillen, flipping the ball toward the mound. And so, unfortunately, did Lacy, jogging toward the Dodgers' dugout. Strike three? Nope. Ball four. Wynn, on third by this time, took off for home but was tagged out by the catcher Sanguillen, who then relayed it to Richie Hebner at third, who stepped on the bag. Lacy suddenly realized what was going on and dashed headlong to the plate, where Hebner threw to Sanguillen, who tagged Lacy. Chief umpire Ed Sudol finally ruled that Wynn was out when he touched home because he technically passed Lacy on the basepath. And Lacy was entitled to home because of the bases-loaded walk, even though he was near the dugout when Wynn was out.

And what's more, the umpire added, Lacy was immune to a tag. So he scored when he slid home, even though Sanguillen tagged him and even though Wynn had already made the last out of the inning. The Pirates overcame the Dodgers' 3-1 lead to win. Giants 5, Cardinals 4 The Giants had a play to match. In the third inning, Giant Garry Maddox was on first when Ed Goodson hit a Bob Gibson pitch to deep center field. Bake McBride leaped for it at the 410-foot sign on the wall, and seemingly caught it. But the ball fell out, over the eight-foot high wall. What was it? A two-run homer for Goodson? Maddox stopped at second base, then he circled back toward first, thinking the ball was caught. It was thrown back over the wall, onto the playing field, by a stadium attendant. Goodson passed him between first and second and was called out for passing Maddox. Then Maddox took off again, coming around the bases—the right way. He crossed home and Goodson was credited with a run-scoring single. Bobby Bonds of the Giants and Jose Cruz of the Cardinals traded three-run homers and Tito Fuentes broke a 4-4 tie with a seventh-inning single to give San Francisco the victory. Padres 1, Cubs 0 Spillner called his one-hitter his best game ever, and, if he had had luck, would have had a no-hitter against the Cubs. Rick Monday's third-inning line drive ricocheted off Spillner, and he made it to first. Expos 4, Reds 2 Ron Hunt's bases-loaded tiebreaking single and Tim Foli's sacrifice fly gave the Expos a two-run edge in the fourth inning—which rookie relief pitcher John Montague made stand.

Braves 5, Mets 0 Tom House relieved Buzz Capra for the Braves in the sixth inning, with Atlanta leading 2-0, and preserved the win. Phils 5, Astros 4 Mike Schmidt had three singles and drove home two runs and Jim Lonborg pitched his fifth straight victory in the Phillies victory over Houston.

White Sox Smother Indians, 15-4

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Chicago Manager Chuck Tanner came to the defense of Cleveland after the White Sox smothered the Indians 15-4 Wednesday night in American League baseball. "It can happen to anybody," Tanner said. "They'll bounce back and get out of it. Don't forget, it's only one loss. It was probably good that they got it out of their system." The White Sox worked over five Indian pitchers for 20 hits. Bill Sharp lead the hitting department with four-for-five at the plate and Bucky Dent was on top with three RBIs. There was only one White Sox home run in the barrage and Dick Allen supplied that in the seven-run, seventh inning with Jorge Orta on base. Stan Bahnsen, 6-7, was credited with the victory, but only lasted five innings, giving up eight hits and four runs. "He (Bahnsen) was struggling all night," Tanner said. He was lucky to get out of a couple of jams." Skip Pitlock came on to finish the game for Chicago and gave up no runs and only one hit, while striking out four. It was his first save of the season.

Ed Brinkman knocked in the tie-breaking run with an 11thinning double, pushing Detroit over Texas.

Orioles 6, Twins 5

Brooks Robinson drove in three runs and Earl Williams drove in two, leading Baltimore over Minnesota.

Winner Dave McNally, 6-5, had a one-hitter until the Twins scored in the seventh on a double by Steve Brye.

White Sox 15, Indians 4

A seven-run seventh inning, triggered by Dick Allen's two-run homer, powered Chicago over Cleveland.

Yankees 2, Angels 1

George Medich shackled California on seven hits and Chris Chambliss doubled to drive in the winning run in New York's victory over the Angels.

Red Sox 2, A's 1

Bob Montgomery's basesloaded sacrifice fly in the 11th inning gave Boston its victory over Oakland.

Wilmington Still On Tap For Bengals

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati Bengals Coach Paul Brown said today he's going ahead with plans for training camp at Wilmington College. Speculation had mounted that the Bengals might forsake the Wilmington camp in view of the possibility of a National Football League players strike.

Brown spiked the rumor that the Bengals would remain in Cincinnati for the summer session, rather than travel the 50 miles to the regular training site at Wilmington.

"Even though this puts us in a bind, we're going ahead with plans to open in Wilmington July 13. If we don't, the rookies have a case that we didn't give them a fair chance at trying out," he said.

"And it's not just the rookies. Guys like Greg Cook and Wayne Clark are trying to win jobs too," he said. Cook is attempting another comeback and Clark was obtained in a quarterback trade with the San Diego Chargers for Virgil Carter, who later signed with Chicago of the World Football League. The league is being threatened with a strike by the National Football League Players Association if contract demands are not met.

The players union is urging veterans and rookies to boycott camps until a settlement is reached.

Miss Ann J. Heffelfinger, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carl J. Heffelfinger, 545 Green Acre Court, has recently returned from spending a semester studying in Venice, Italy. She was one of 19 students chosen to participate in a special program of Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem, S. C., which provides for study and travel abroad.

This past semester the program was designed for students interested in anthropology and included courses in old world prehistory, European peasant cultures, Italian Renaissance art and architecture and the Italian language. Numerous field trips, anthropological expeditions and encounters with various cultural and ethnic groups enhanced the educational experience.

Receiving a bachelor of arts degree from Vassar College on June 2 was Beth Spires, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spires, 402 E. Main St. Miss Spires graduated with departmental honors in English and was awarded an assistantship by the University of Iowa. She was the recipient of the Daw Brown Poetry Prize and the Academy of American Poets Prize.

Wayne Brown Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Brown, Route 1, Groveport, was among the graduates receiving degrees at the June 7 commencement at The Ohio State University.

Brown majored in animal science and was awarded a bachelor of science degree from the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

He now plans to engage in swine production and farming. While at OSU, he was a member of the Saddle and Sirlion Club and the Livestock judging team. He won the showmanship award at the 1973 Little International.

Among the members of the sixth graduating class at Hocking Technical College of Nelsonville was David W. Skaggs, 130 Dunmore Road. During the graduation exercises held on the college campus June 9, Skaggs received as associate degree in retail marketing management. In 1973, he received a degree in applied business and accounting technology.

Skaggs was also named to the Dean's List for the spring quarter.

Attending the graduation exercises were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Skaggs.

REBECCA JONES

Receiving the Lilly Achievement Award for superior scholastic achievement and outstanding leaders at the Ohio State College of Pharmacy annual awards program was Rebecca Jones, 23. Mrs. Jones is a senior at the college and is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Warren Hoffman, Ashville. Her husband, Curtis, is employed as an engineer for Babcock-Wilcox in Barberton and the couple resides in Columbus.

Mrs. Jones has been secretary of her freshman class and for the Student American Pharmaceutical Association Ohio State chapter. She has served as a member of the student Drug Abuse Committee, an organization which has presented drug abuse lectures and demonstrations to over 100 Columbus area schools, reaching over 10,000 students.

In addition, she has held the

DWI Arrests Show Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More arrests for drunken driving were made last month than in any comparable period, the state Highway Patrol reported today.

"We arrested 2,035 drivers for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol last month," said Col. Robert M. Chiaramonte, patrol superintendent.

"That total represents a 33 per cent increase over the May 1973 figure and is an all time record for the division."

Patrol officers, during the first five months of the year, have arrested more drunken drivers than any other year in the patrol's history, Chiaramonte said.

Reverend Appointed To Nursing Board

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Rev. Prentice L. Brown, has been reappointed to a three-year term on the Ohio Board of Nursing Home administrators.

Mass Transit For Elderly Ignored

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A plan to provide free mass transit for Ohio's elderly citizens failed to create unanimous enthusiasm even among the state's over-65 citizens.

C&SOE Rate Hike Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio has scheduled hearings July 15 on proposed rate increases by the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., in 25 central and southwestern Ohio counties.

The hearing will consider two cases, one for the City of Columbus and the other for unincorporated areas in the 25 counties.

In the Columbus case, the company is appealing voter rejection of a rate hike. Amount of the proposed increases has not been determined, the company said.

In the counties case, the company is asking for an average 19 per cent increase, which would increase revenues about $13 million a year, the company said.

Streakers Arrested

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Police here say they arrested the son of American Bar Association President Chesterfield Smith and the daughter of former Florida Board of Regents Chairman D. Burke Kibler for streaking.

The young couple were reported to have dashed nude at 3 a.m. Tuesday through a pancake house where a Lakeland police officer was taking his lunch break.

Jacqueline Kibler of Lakeland and Chesterfield Harvey Smith of Bartow, both 21, were released on $300 bond and told to appear in court June 27 to answer indecent exposure charges.

The elder Smith said, "I don't excuse any conduct that is a violation of the law at all, but I'm sympathetic to my son and I'll be working with him to assist him in any way that I can involving his problems."

MARLA HALLEY

Marla Hobbie Halley, 547 Riverview Drive, Columbus, graduated from the Riverside Methodist School of Nursing on June 7. She will be taking the Ohio State Board for registered nurses on July 9 and 10.

Mrs. Halley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger D. Hobbie, Route 1, is presently employed at the Riverside Methodist Hospital in Columbus.

A few marched on the Statehouse and some 17,000 signed petitions, but most of the 1.4 million who could benefit were not heard from. The result was the legislature didn't pass the proposal before it adjourned June 13.

The measure could be revived later this year.

Some lawmakers who considered the proposal by the administration of Gov. John J. Gilligan said they were asked to vote against it by elderly citizens who do not live on transit system lines, or even near them, in some instances.

"I was frankly surprised to get seven phone calls against this," said Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron. "They said they didn't want it because they don't live close to a transit system."

Ocasek and other members of the Senate Finance Committee, during examination of the House-passed bill, questioned J. Phillip Richley, director of the Department of Transportation, about a system of coupons that would enable all elderly to use cabs, buses or whatever public transportation available—not just mass transit systems.

Committee Defends Tests On Beagles

WASHINGTON (AP) — A National Academy of Sciences committee has found use of beagles indispensable in research on the effects of poisonous chemicals on man.

"Although other species are indeed useful and required in toxicological research, none of the available species can replace the beagle dog," the committee said in a report to the Air Force.

The report, prepared by 21 doctors and specialists mostly from universities and industry, capped a nearly nine-month study of the Air Force's research on ways to curb dangers to aviators from jet fuel fumes.

It was handed to the Air Force amid rising opposition in Congress and among dog lovers to the use of beagles in tests, particularly the Army's chemical warfare research.

"Although no animal is a perfect model for man, the use of a combination of species can provide a basis for extrapolating toxicity studies to anticipate safe exposure conditions for man," the report said. It said the beagle "is a necessary component of that combination and cannot be adequately replaced at this time or in the near future."

Other animals such as monkeys, cats and pigs are required in toxicological research, but each has limitations, the report said.

Dogs are preferred for research because they "closely resemble man in many ways," including their heart-blood systems. But not any dog will do, the scientists said.

Richley said he had heard that West Virginia and some other states may be trying to provide such services to the elderly, but that he knew little about it.

He raised the question that it might be too expensive to administer.

The Gilligan plan, said Richley, is based on a similar program in Pennsylvania, where the state's elderly citizens were provided free rides except during peak travel hours for a year at a cost to the state of $12.5 million.

Richley used those figures for comparison to predict that about one million Ohioans over 65 would use free transit during a six-month pilot project beginning Jan. 1, 1975.

In the administration's supplemental budget bill the cost was put at $4.5 million.

Richley's projection was that each of the participating Ohioans would ride 10 to 15 times a year.

If ridership doubled during the experiment over the course of an entire year, as it did in Ohio's neighboring state, "We may be talking like a cost of $10 million to $12 million a year to put it on a permanent basis."

Mongrels, the report said, were useful for certain basic short-term studies but not for "the high quality of research needed for predicting human effects from chemicals."

It added that purebred dogs, particularly beagles specifically bred for research, do not have health problems such as mongrels often do and are less likely to die of extraneous causes during experiments. An experiment using purebred beagles thus requires perhaps only one-tenth as many animals to get statistically significant results, the researchers said.

The Air Force used 172 beagles last year and ordered another 200 for this year, the report said.

About 35 of this year's group will be anesthetized.

"They will not be permitted to regain consciousness and euthanasia will be accomplished at the end of the experiments," the report said, adding they will be killed humanely, usually by intravenous injection of a barbiturate.

The other dogs will be used in "chronic inhalation studies."

"There is no intent to produce serious injury to the animals and there should be no pain," the report said.

Generally, the scientific group praised the operation of the program at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio.

Fear Wave Of Violence In England

LONDON (AP) — Senior Scotland Yard officials fear the bombing of historic Westminster Hall may be the start of a major summer offensive by the Irish Republican Army in England.

Police officials told the Times of London they believed the blitz would be aimed primarily at government buildings and political figures.

Police sources said the IRA's Provisional wing, the branch that is fighting a guerrilla war in Northern Ireland, is believed to have stockpiled explosives in preparation for a new terrorist offensive.

Detectives questioned dozens of workmen, many of them transient Irishmen, in their search for the terrorist who planted the 20-pound bomb that exploded during the rush hour Monday morning in the Palace of Westminster, home of the British Parliament.

The bomb damaged the 897-year-old Westminster Hall, one of Britain's most historic buildings; injured 11 persons and started a gas fire that did extensive damage in an office annex.

Police believe the bomber may have posed as a workman. An underground garage is being built in the area, and security was reported to have been relaxed for the workmen.

"This place is like Liberty Hall," said one worker. "No one asks for passes, and many people don't even have one."

DeBakey Urges Research, Not Transplants

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A pioneer in heart transplant surgery says he expects to do no more of the operations unless there is a major breakthrough in medicine.

Instead, medical science must rely on research in prevention of heart disease, Dr. Michael DeBakey said in an interview.

"We've gone through the experience and we know what that experience proves," DeBakey said. "Unless there were some radical changes taking place in terms of new knowledge, there's no reason to expect it to be any different. So why do it?"

DeBakey performed 12 heart transplants at the Texas Medical Center here, and only two patients were long-term survivors.

"One died at the end of four years of chronic rejection," he said. "The other one is still living, after 5½ years. True, he's doing well. We don't know why."

"But that's a small yield considering the effort you put into it."

DeBakey said heart transplantation is limited by the need to find donors who are young, healthy and "killed in a very special way."

"That limits it right away. So it can never be an answer to the major portion of heart disease," he said. "This means you've got to look for something else to solve the problem of heart disease. Obviously that's in the direction of solving the problems of arteriosclerosis."

Arteriosclerosis is a generic term for a number of chronic conditions affecting the arteries bringing blood to the heart.

"That's the cause of heart disease," he said. "So research needs to be more directed to ultimately solve that problem. Not in the direction of heart transplants."

DeBakey said he still is conducting experiments toward development of an artificial heart, but he pointed out there were actually two different kinds of mechanical heart aids that could be implanted. "You just can't lump them all together," he said. "They are used for different purposes."

"One type is that which replaces the whole heart. That is still an experimental procedure."

"The other category is those which are used to primarily support or assist the circulation temporarily—a number of hours or days or as much as maybe a week. That has been progressive and we actually do use that clinically," DeBakey said.

DeBakey, who seldom grants interviews, talked about a number of subjects relating to medicine.

An honorary member of the Soviet Academy of Medicine, DeBakey said the Soviet Union is pushing medical cooperation "primarily because they think through cooperation they can improve their own medical treatment."

But the Russians are currently ahead of the United States in delivering medical care to their citizens, said DeBakey, who has made a number of trips to the Soviet Union since 1958 including one earlier this month.

"It's accessible to everybody," he said of Soviet medicine. "In other words, they don't discriminate on the basis of finances."

Everybody has available to him the opportunity to go into a medical center if he needs to go there."

In order to match Russia's health delivery system, DeBakey said the United States must "provide some type of national health insurance program that will meet the needs of all the people."

DeBakey refused to take a stand on the several different national health insurance proposals being debated in Congress.

In contrast to many physicians, DeBakey said he does not believe a health insurance plan must lower the quality of medical care.

800 Nuclear Blasts Since Era's Dawn

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the first time, before dawn in the desert near Alamogordo, N.M., on July 16, 1945, man has triggered perhaps 800 nuclear explosions.

And, in that time, the peaceful application of nuclear energy has led to 46 licensed nuclear power plants in the United States, providing 6.3 per cent of the total U.S. capacity, and a good deal of controversy on safety and environmental effects.

The Atomic Industrial Forum, an industry organization, says there are hopes for some 220 power plants in this country by 1984. Abroad, some 30 countries are committed to nuclear power, with plans for another 300 power plants, it said.

In the 29 years since the first man-made nuclear explosion in history, five nations have joined the United States in the "nuclear club"—having exploded a nuclear bomb: The Soviet Union, the United Kingdom, France, the People's Republic of China and now India.

The most recent nuclear test explosions, by China and France on Monday, were part of a recent rush of news about nuclear power. President Nixon announced on his tour of the Middle East that the United States will help both Egypt and Israel develop nuclear power for peaceful purposes.

And the atmospheric tests followed India's controversial first test of an underground nuclear device last May 18 and Soviet Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev's assertion that his nation is ready to extend the test ban agreement with the United States to include underground tests.

The two great powers have banned atmospheric tests, but France and China have refused to join the international nuclear nonproliferation pact that became effective in 1970.

The Atomic Energy Commission scorecard of admitted tests shows 546 by the United States, 135 by the Soviet Union (plus 82 recordings of seismic soundings suggesting underground tests), 25 by the United Kingdom, 16 by China including the most recent and 43 by the French (actually 53 now) and one by India. There also were the two atomic bombs the United States dropped on Japan during World War II.

The Atomic Energy Commission, to foster international development of atomic energy expressed in the "Atoms for Peace" proposal of President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1961, since has entered into development agreements with 22 countries.

Nuclear Materials Shortage Could Jeopardize Nixon Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A shortage of nuclear materials could jeopardize President Nixon's nuclear arrangements with Egypt and Israel, a member of the House-Senate Joint Atomic Energy Committee says.

Rep. Chet Holifield, D-Calif., said Tuesday the shortage also could leave a number of proposed American nuclear power plants without fuel.

Holifield commented after John A. Erlewine, general manager of the Atomic Energy Commission, told the committee the government will be unable to make new contracts after June 30 for supplying nuclear materials to power plants and other industrial users.

Erlewine said his agency is not producing enough nuclear fuel to fill any new contracts after June 30.

Erlewine said he did not know how the cutoff date would affect the arrangements with Israel and Egypt. But he said most domestic nuclear power plants already have contracted for the materials and shouldn't be affected.

Holifield accused the AEC of "failure of responsibility" in not making plans to meet the shortage. He said the agency should have been able to "see down the road to the point where we would no longer be able to supply domestic reactors with the fuel they need to produce the electricity this country needs so badly."

Erlewine said the AEC has to stop making new contracts to supply nuclear fuels because existing contracts account for virtually all the capacity of the government's plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Portsmouth, Ohio, and Paducah, Ky., that manufacture the fuels.

Erlewine said private industry has failed to respond to administration appeals that it help the government in producing the nuclear materials.

"Without any question, there are policy questions to be addressed on the future production of special nuclear materials," he said.

Erlewine said the government would be able to meet all existing contracts for nuclear materials.

Government To Purchase Beef, Pork

WASHINGTON (AP) — To aid the nation's cattlemen and hog producers, the government will buy up to $100 million of beef and pork.

Kenneth Rush, economic counselor to President Nixon, said Tuesday the meat would be bought this summer and donated to school lunch programs.

"By buying now we help the cattlemen and hog producers, who are suffering from low prices, and we help prevent future dislocations in the market that would adversely affect consumer prices," Rush said.

Agriculture Department officials declined to predict how the new meat purchases might affect consumer prices. But one department official said middlemen markups have been wide enough so that it might be possible for meat packers and retailers to absorb the purchases without passing further costs on to family shoppers.

The president of the American Meat Institute, Richard Lyng, said the action "should not have any major impact on retail prices. But it could have the effect of encouraging some producers to stay in business."

The exact amount of the purchases and the breakdown between beef and pork was not announced. If the entire amount were spent on beef, for example, it would mean about 100 million pounds of hamburger, which is several days' cattle slaughter.

The Agriculture Department has purchased about 105 million pounds of beef and pork during the fiscal year ending June 30.

Claire Robinson, president of the Kansas Livestock Association, and Paul Nauer, president of the National Farmer Organization in Kansas, called the purchase "a drop in the bucket."

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., said, "This ought to give the cattlemen a shot in the arm. Maybe the market will go up two or three cents."

Arch Booth, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, said the government should encourage increased consumption of beef rather than having the government "bail out" the meat industry.

"Medicare has not hurt the practice of medicine because of the way it's done," he said. "If a patient can choose his doctor . . . and a doctor has the right to practice the way he wants, as long as he is practicing good medicine, I think there is no reason why the quality should suffer."

1974 Corn Planting Behind Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Midwest farmers are winding up 1974 corn planting with many of them trailing last year's abnormally slow pace, according to surveys by the Agriculture Department.

As of June 16, about 95 per cent of the corn belt crop was planted, officials said Tuesday in a weekly weather summary. Historically farmers have finished by then, the report said.

Last year severe weather delayed the crop and raised many fears that 1973 production would suffer. But near-perfect weather pushed the crop along and farmers wound up last year with a record harvest.

Department officials have forecast another record for 1974, but apprehension has risen once more that delayed plantings and fertilizer shortages may reduce prospects.

The report showed the Illinois corn crop was 90 per cent planted by last Saturday, and Indiana 85 per cent, both behind the 1973 rate. The Iowa crop was 95 per cent planted, with most of the remainder to be done in wet areas or in fields to be replanted.

"Both Iowa and Illinois farmers had to replant 10 per cent of the states' acreage," the report said. "Corn stands in most Corn Belt states range from only fair to good, largely from wet conditions."

The report said soybean planting, which normally is later than for corn, picked up last week and was 69 per cent finished in the Corn Belt, although trailing the 1973 rate of 76 per cent. However, the Illinois crop — the largest in recent years — was only 45 per cent planted, down from 90 per cent normally.

Wheat farmers stepped ahead in harvesting their 1974 crop in the Great Plains, with combines getting into full swing in southern Kansas. About 20 per cent of the Kansas crop was ripe, compared with 5 per cent on June 16 last year.

Poodle Owner Wins $9,000 In Claim Dog Traumatized

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — "Little One," a poodle whose owner won $9,000 in a suit claiming the dog was traumatized after getting cut while being groomed, apparently holds no grudges.

Introduced as evidence Tuesday in the Broward County Circuit Court jury trial, Little One walked over to the groomer who allegedly caused all her mental turmoil and let the man pet her.

But the six-member jury apparently wasn't impressed by the show of friendship. The three women and three men awarded Evelyn Caswell $7,500 in punitive damages and $1,500 in compensatory damages.

"She's not like a normal dog anymore," Mrs. Caswell had told the jury. "She's more like a retarded child. She's lost her playful personality and tends to stare off into space a lot."

She had sued for $15,000, saying Little One suffered anguish after a January 1973 clipping by Frank Swavola in a grooming van outside her home.

National Pet Spa, owner of the van and defendant in the suit, makes door-to-door grooming calls in this Gold Coast city.

The company had Little One introduced into evidence as its last witness to show the dog suffered no ill effects from the grooming.

Mrs. Caswell claimed Little One was cut during the clipping but that Swavola, instead of treating the cut, groomed over it. The cut became infected, Mrs. Caswell said, and the infection caused the trauma.

Swavola claimed the cut was already there.

Mrs. Caswell said she plans to spend the money left after legal expenses to campaign for a law requiring that dog groomers be licensed by the state.

Plant Move Ends Jobs For 500

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Borden, Inc., official says the firm decided to move part of its Columbus Coated Fabrics Co. operation out of Columbus because of demands for wall coverings.

Manufacture of wall coverings accounted for more than half of the production at the plant, which has been closed four months by a strike by the Textile Workers of America.

The Borden official, Maurice O'Reilly, said the decision to move the remainder of Coated Fabrics' wall covering equipment to a plant in North Andover, Mass., was made after contract negotiations broke down again early this week.

The move will result in elimination of 500 jobs at the Columbus plant.

O'Reilly said 25 per cent of the wall coverings' equipment was shipped east about two months ago, eliminating about 100 local jobs, and a company warehouse here was closed, cutting another 50 jobs.

The union has filed an appeal with the National Labor Relations Board contending the company is attempting to run away from bargaining.

At dispute in the negotiations are money issues and health and safety provisions.

The plant has had a series of labor problems the past seven years. A nerve ailment that affected some workers triggered a walkout last year.

Medina Councilmen Eye Planning Group

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—Medina city councilmen say they'll decide by the end of the year whether to join the new Northeast Ohio Five County Planning Organization.

Councilmen told the Ohio Department of Economic and Community Development Tuesday that they fear the new agency will be dominated by populous Akron.

The agency so far includes Summit, Stark, Portage and Wayne counties.

DeBakey Urges Research, Not Transplants

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A pioneer in heart transplant surgery says he expects to do no more of the operations unless there is a major break-through in medicine.

Instead, medical science must rely on research in prevention of heart disease, Dr. Michael DeBakey said in an interview.

"We've gone through the experience and we know what that experience proves," DeBakey said. "Unless there were some radical changes taking place in terms of new knowledge, there's no reason to expect it to be any different. So why do it?"

DeBakey performed 12 heart transplants at the Texas Medical Center here, and only two patients were long-term survivors.

"One died at the end of four years of chronic rejection," he said. "The other one is still living, after 5½ years. True, he's doing well. We don't know why."

"But that's a small yield considering the effort you put into it."

DeBakey said heart transplantation is limited by the need to find donors who are young, healthy and "killed in a very special way."

"That limits it right away. So it can never be an answer to the major portion of heart disease," he said. "This means you've got to look for something else to solve the problem of heart disease. Obviously that's in the direction of solving the problems of arteriosclerosis."

Arteriosclerosis is a generic term for a number of chronic conditions affecting the arteries bringing blood to the heart.

"That's the cause of heart disease," he said. "So research needs to be more directed to ultimately solve that problem. Not in the direction of heart transplants."

DeBakey said he still is conducting experiments toward development of an artificial heart, but he pointed out there were actually two different kinds of mechanical heart aids that could be implanted. "You just can't lump them all together," he said. "They are used for different purposes."

"One type is that which replaces the whole heart. That is still an experimental procedure."

"The other category is those which are used to primarily support or assist the circulation temporarily—a number of hours or days or as much as maybe a week. That has been progressive and we actually do use that clinically," DeBakey said.

DeBakey, who seldom grants interviews, talked about a number of subjects relating to medicine.

An honorary member of the Soviet Academy of Medicine, DeBakey said the Soviet Union is pushing medical cooperation "primarily because they think through cooperation they can improve their own medical treatment."

But the Russians are currently ahead of the United States in delivering medical care to their citizens, said DeBakey, who has made a number of trips to the Soviet Union since 1958 including one earlier this month.

"It's accessible to everybody," he said of Soviet medicine. "In other words, they don't discriminate on the basis of finances."

Everybody has available to him the opportunity to go into a medical center if he needs to go there."

In order to match Russia's health delivery system, DeBakey said the United States must "provide some type of national health insurance program that will meet the needs of all the people."

DeBakey refused to take a stand on the several different national health insurance proposals being debated in Congress.

In contrast to many physicians, DeBakey said he does not believe a health insurance plan must lower the quality of medical care.

"Medicare has not hurt the practice of medicine because of the way it's done," he said. "If a patient can choose his doctor . . . and a doctor has the right to practice the way he wants, as long as he is practicing good medicine, I think there is no reason why the quality should suffer."

800 Nuclear Blasts Since Era's Dawn

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the first time, before dawn in the desert near Alamogordo, N.M., on July 16, 1945, man has triggered perhaps 800 nuclear explosions.

And, in that time, the peaceful application of nuclear energy has led to 46 licensed nuclear power plants in the United States, providing 6.3 per cent of the total U.S. capacity, and a good deal of controversy on safety and environmental effects.

The Atomic Industrial Forum, an industry organization, says there are hopes for some 220 power plants in this country by 1984. Abroad, some 30 countries are committed to nuclear power, with plans for another 300 power plants, it said.

In the 29 years since the first man-made nuclear explosion in history, five nations have joined the United States in the "nuclear club"—having exploded a nuclear bomb: The Soviet Union, the United Kingdom, France, the People's Republic of China and now India.

The most recent nuclear test explosions, by China and France on Monday, were part of a recent rush of news about nuclear power. President Nixon announced on his tour of the Middle East that the United States will help both Egypt and Israel develop nuclear power for peaceful purposes.

And the atmospheric tests followed India's controversial first test of an underground nuclear device last May 18 and Soviet Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev's assertion that his nation is ready to extend the test ban agreement with the United States to include underground tests.

The two great powers have banned atmospheric tests, but France and China have refused to join the international nuclear nonproliferation pact that became effective in 1970.

The Atomic Energy Commission scorecard of admitted tests shows 546 by the United States, 135 by the Soviet Union (plus 82 recordings of seismic soundings suggesting underground tests), 25 by the United Kingdom, 16 by China including the most recent and 43 by the French (actually 53 now) and one by India. There also were the two atomic bombs the United States dropped on Japan during World War II.

The Atomic Energy Commission, to foster international development of atomic energy expressed in the "Atoms for Peace" proposal of President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1961, since has entered into development agreements with 22 countries.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Television Schedule

The Circleville Herald, Thursday June 20, 1974

19

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Some news you receive may not please but curb the Aries tendency to "explode" when annoyed. And DON'T vent your ill-humor on associates.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Stars indicate a fine harvest from past endeavors. Reward may come in the form of a promotion — with expanded prestige.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): You can demonstrate your ability to be imaginative and original now but, at the same time, be practical and do not abandon past procedures which have proved practical.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Several chances to do even better than usual. Take advantage of all worthwhile opportunities. A good period in which to try out new methods and ideas.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Don't wait too long before making up your mind in matters where the time element is important. Highly favored: artistic pursuits, travel and outdoor interests.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): A better day for completing pending projects than for the launching of new ones. Make plans for the latter, but don't launch until early next week.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): A good outlook. But handle "musts" before embarking on the new interests promised in day's splendid activity forecast.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Some unusual situations indicated. In all dealings, be direct. Avoid devious tactics or approach, and give others the benefit of any doubt.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Avoid any urge to take foolish chances, but don't hesitate to make changes if the potentials look good. Foresight needed!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A day in which to make new starts — in new directions; to lead rather than to follow. Stellar influences favor the pioneer.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Planetary influences favor the soundly progressive thinker. Forget past disappointments. Your mind should be on present (and future) aspirations and goals.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Some unexpected situations could throw you off the track, cause confusion or misunderstanding. Be alert! Don't be impulsive in either speech or action.

YOU BORN TODAY are a Gemini-Cancer cuspal (one born at the change of Signs) and, as such, are endowed with the strongest traits of both. The Gemini influence gives you a fine mind, a lively imagination, originality, extreme sensitivity and versatility; fits you for success as a journalist, musician, playwright or theatrical entertainer; also gives you a great love for travel and the outdoors. New Champ Assured In Mid-Am MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A new champion is assured in the 16th annual Mid-America Junior Golf Open beginning Tuesday over Possum Run's tight 6,100 yards. Dennis Mowery of Lexington, who won the crown last year, is too old to defend his title. Players cannot be more than 18 years old. Qualifying begins Friday for entries living within 75 miles of Mansfield. It ends Monday for players who are farther away.

No Clear Favorite In LPGA

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — The 20th annual Ladies PGA Championship lacked a clear-cut favorite because of a flock of outstanding challengers in a field of 88 teeing off today at the start of the $50,000 test. Everyone agreed that the title and first prize money of $7,000 are up for grabs in the four-day, 72-hole tournament at the par 72, 6,130-yard Pleasant Valley Country club course.

The $71 million Harry S Truman Sports Complex in Kansas City is the site of the world's only side-by-side baseball and football stadium. The American League Royals play in the 42,000-seat Royals Stadium and the 78,000-seat Arrowhead Stadium is home to the Chiefs, former Super Bowl champs.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A material from her writings, new television series, "Born Free," is what Joy Adamson calls a "sugar-coated" entertainment program on wildlife and conservation.

The NBC series is now filming in Kenya and is loosely based on the life of Mrs. Adamson and the cubs of Elsa the lion.

"We're concentrating on wildlife," said Mrs. Adamson, author of "Born Free" and "Living Free" and head of the Elsa Wild Animal Appeal.

"But it has to be sugar-coated to appeal to the public. It's not a documentary, it's entertainment. It's on conservation and will be as authentic as possible."

One reason it will have an air of authenticity is Mrs. Adamson. She has story approval, and on that score she is toughminded and demanding.

The series, from Columbia Pictures Television, stars Diana Muldaur and Gary Collins as Joy and George Adamson. Mrs. Adamson was here from a lecture tour for the Elsa Wild Animal Appeal but is now back in Kenya, where she moved from her native Austria in 1936 at age 26.

Mrs. Adamson, 64, said all of the money from the series, as with profits from her books and the movies "Born Free" and "Living Free," will go into the Elsa Wild Animal Appeal.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Some news you receive may not please but curb the Aries tendency to "explode" when annoyed. And DON'T vent your ill-humor on associates.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Stars indicate a fine harvest from past endeavors. Reward may come in the form of a promotion — with expanded prestige.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): You can demonstrate your ability to be imaginative and original now but, at the same time, be practical and do not abandon past procedures which have proved practical.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Several chances to do even better than usual. Take advantage of all worthwhile opportunities. A good period in which to try out new methods and ideas.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Don't wait too long before making up your mind in matters where the time element is important. Highly favored: artistic pursuits, travel and outdoor interests.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): A better day for completing pending projects than for the launching of new ones. Make plans for the latter, but don't launch until early next week.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): A good outlook. But handle "musts" before embarking on the new interests promised in day's splendid activity forecast.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Some unusual situations indicated. In all dealings, be direct. Avoid devious tactics or approach, and give others the benefit of any doubt.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 21): Avoid any urge to take foolish chances, but don't hesitate to make changes if the potentials look good. Foresight needed!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A day in which to make new starts — in new directions; to lead rather than to follow. Stellar influences favor the pioneer.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Planetary influences favor the soundly progressive thinker. Forget past disappointments. Your mind should be on present (and future) aspirations and goals.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Some unexpected situations could throw you off the track, cause confusion or misunderstanding. Be alert: Don't be impulsive in either speech or action. YOU BORN TODAY are a Gemini-Cancer cuspal (one born at the change of Signs) and, as such, are endowed with the strongest traits of both. The Gemini influence gives you a fine mind, a lively imagination, originality, extreme sensitivity and versatility; fits you for success as a journalist, musician, playwright or theatrical entertainer; also gives you a great love for travel and the outdoors. Cancer influences make you more conservative than the true Gemini; also more conventional and self-sacrificing. Here we have the humanitarian, the dedicated physician or nurse, the educator or sociologist without equal. Truly, the whole world is before you — to meet and conquer. Birthdate of: Jean-Paul Sartre, French writer.

New Champ Assured In Mid-Am

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A new champion is assured in the 16th annual Mid-America Junior Golf Open beginning Tuesday over Possum Run's tight 6,100 yards. Dennis Mowery of Lexington, who won the crown last year, is too old to defend his title. Players cannot be more than 18 years old. Qualifying begins Friday for entries living within 75 miles of Mansfield. It ends Monday for players who are farther away.

No Clear Favorite In LPGA

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — The 20th annual Ladies PGA Championship lacked a clear-cut favorite because of a flock of outstanding challengers in a field of 88 teeing off today at the start of the $50,000 test. Everyone agreed that the title and first prize money of $7,000 are up for grabs in the four-day, 72-hole tournament at the par 72, 6,130-yard Pleasant Valley Country club course.

The $71 million Harry S Truman Sports Complex in Kansas City is the site of the world's only side-by-side baseball and football stadiums. The American League Royals play in the 42,000-seat Royals Stadium and the 78,000-seat Arrowhead Stadium is home to the Chiefs, former Super Bowl champs.

fictional accounts of Elsa's cubs and work by the calls a "sugar-coated" entertainment program on wildlife and conservation. It will also include cultural aspects of the African people.

She said George Adamson, her third husband, now retired from the Kenya Game Department, lives 500 miles from her home.

"He rehabilitates lions and I have my work," she said. "We get together as often as we can. We are devoted, and the rumors that we are divorced are not true."

Tanner And Riessen Post Tennis Victories

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP) — Roscoe Tanner and Marty Riessen are looking ahead to Wimbledon after their big upset victories during the early phase of the $100,000 John Player Tennis Tournament.

Tanner, 22, of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., scored an 8-6, 6-4 triumph in the third round Wednesday against top-seeded John Newcombe, the Australian ranked No. 1 for next week's Wimbledon competition.

Riessen of Amelia Island, Fla., ousted second-seeded Romanian Ilie Nastase 6-3, 9-8 in another surprising third-round match.

Although the local loan rates will vary geographically according to transportation charges and distance to terminal and export markets, the supports will be adjusted to reflect a national rate of $1.88 per 100 pounds.

Congress Reserves Own 'Privileges'

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was a bit of Senate routine, a minor resolution handled without debate or dissent—but the issue behind that formality is one of the central controversies in the Watergate case.

The issue is the privilege of one branch of the government to withhold something sought by another branch. President Nixon is not alone in asserting that prerogative.

Congress reserves that privilege for itself, and while it normally grants requests from the courts, it maintains the right to withhold material when it chooses.

That is the congressional equivalent of the executive privilege Nixon is invoking in his battle to withhold White House tape recordings and documents sought by the courts and House impeachment investigators.

The resolution before the Senate the other day authorized a Senate Judiciary Committee aide to give a federal court evidence about the panel's rules of procedure.

In doing so, it restated the doctrine of control over Senate documents and over the testimony of senators or aides about legislative business:

"... By the privileges of the Senate of the United States, no evidence under the control and in the possession of the Senate of the United States can, by the mandate of process of the ordinary courts of justice, be taken from such control or possession but by its permission."

The requirement that the Senate decide whether to yield materials to outsiders is written into its rules, and covers employees as well as senators. The House reserves similar prerogatives.

Nixon is arguing that he is entitled to the same discretion over White House documents and tapes, on grounds of executive privilege. That is a key part of his argument against subpoenas from the federal courts and the House Judiciary Committee.

There are differences. Executive privilege is an implied power based on precedent, not on law. Congress has something in writing.

The Constitution says its members "shall not be questioned in any other place" for speech or debate on the floor. The Supreme Court has held that this covers aides as well as members in legitimate activities that are part of the legislative process.

Girls Attend 4-H Camp

Judy List, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald List, Route 1, and Nancy Schein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schein, Route 1, Williamsport, two county 4-H members, are attending Ohio Forestry Camp at Hidden Hollow Camp in Richland County this week.

JUDY LIST

NANCY SCHEIN

The two girls were selected to go to this camp by the 4-H Awards Committee. The committee considered forty-eight Ohio report forms submitted from 4-H members in making their selection. The awards are based on leadership ability displayed in 4-H, school, and community.

The camp, which has representatives from most of the counties in the state, studies a curriculum of forestry, geology, wildlife management and naturalist studies. The Pickaway County members will bring back what they have learned to help the county program at camps, land labs and in their local clubs.

3rd Suspect Being Sought

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—A hearing was scheduled today for two men charged in a $35,000 armed robbery at a Second National Bank branch in Ashland and police continued to seek a third suspect.

James R. Dunlap, 31, and William F. Jacobs, 38, both of Ashland, were apprehended after the robbery Wednesday evening, according to Thomas W. Kitchens Jr., special agent in charge of the FBI Louisville office.

A third man took a hostage after the holdup, forcing him to drive to the Circleville-Chillicothe area of Ohio before releasing him unharmed. State Police said the hostage drove back to Ashland in his own truck.

The third suspect was still at large early today, State Police at Ashland said.

Dunlap and Jacobs, charged with violations of the federal bank robbery statutes, were to appear today before U.S. Magistrate George Stavros in Ashland.

G.B. Johnson Sr., president of the bank, said it was the first robbery in the 90 year history of the bank.

No one was injured, though two customers were in the bank when the armed men entered.

The robbers ordered bank employees to move away from all alarms, threatening to kill anyone who touched an alarm. They then ordered tellers to empty the cash drawers and left with the money. The vault was not entered.

Failure To Pass Badminton Test Keeps Girl From College

SOUTH RIVER, N.J. (AP) — Sharon Pinkham could miss starting college in the fall because she failed written badminton and tennis tests given only to girls in her high school's gym classes.

The 18-year-old, C-average student received a blank piece of paper instead of a diploma Wednesday at her school's ceremonies.

Unless Sharon passes the physical education course in summer school, or wins a fight to have the tests declared unconstitutional by state education authorities, Middlesex County College says it will withdraw her acceptance for fall classes.

Sharon, who wants to be a nurse, failed the physical education course because she received a 45 on the badminton test and a zero for not taking the tennis exam.

But Sharon, her mother, many spectators at the ceremony and the girl's legal adviser were quick to make the point that the tests were administered only to girls.

Boys were graded only on participation and attitude, according to Joseph Buckley, a third-year law student serving as Sharon's legal adviser.

Buckley, who works for the Rutgers Legal Aid Clinic in Newark, said a complaint on the matter has been presented to local education authorities. He said the complaint alleges the tests were discriminatory since they were given only to female physical education students.

Pearl Pinkham, Sharon's mother, said three of her five sons already had graduated from South River High School and none had to pass the tests that kept Sharon from graduating.

Sharon's 320 classmates and many of their guests at the graduation applauded wildly when her name was called. The consensus among the male graduates was, "if the boys don't have to take the test, neither do the girls." Sharon received a grade of 88 in class participation, a category that was counted twice. She said her other marks were a 78 in skills, the 45 in badminton and the zero in tennis. According to those figures, her average was just below 60. Passing was 70.

Blaze Guts Big Plant At Delaware

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Explosions and fire destroyed two-thirds of the Pennwalt Corp. plant in an industrial area at the southwest edge of Delaware early today.

About 100 firemen and a dozen pieces of equipment from Delaware and four neighboring departments were called to fight the blaze.

The first alarm was sounded by an automatic alarm system about 4:30 a.m. and firemen heard two explosions seconds later as they prepared to leave for the plant, according to Delaware Fire Captain Milton Shonting.

According to Shonting, the explosions knocked out the plant's automatic sprinkler system.

Shonting said that at first it was feared one man was in the building when the fire broke out, but this later turned out to be untrue.

The plant manufacturers chlorine laundry detergent additives and other chlorine products, Shonting said. Firemen wore self-contained breathing units to enter the building for fear of chemical fumes.

No injuries were reported.

Shonting said that about two-thirds of the plant was destroyed, but the firemen managed to save the remainder and a nearby office building.

Firemen from the Tri-Township, Scioto, Concord and Liberty departments assisted Delaware.

No dollar estimate of damage was available.

Congress Reserves Own 'Privileges'

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was a bit of Senate routine, a minor resolution handled without debate or dissent—but the issue behind that formality is one of the central controversies in the Watergate case.

The issue is the privilege of one branch of the government to withhold something sought by another branch. President Nixon is not alone in asserting that prerogative.

Congress reserves that privilege for itself, and while it normally grants requests from the courts, it maintains the right to withhold material when it chooses.

That is the congressional equivalent of the executive privilege Nixon is invoking in his battle to withhold White House tape recordings and documents sought by the courts and House impeachment investigators.

The resolution before the Senate the other day authorized a Senate Judiciary Committee aide to give a federal court evidence about the panel's rules of procedure.

In doing so, it restated the doctrine of control over Senate documents and over the testimony of senators or aides about legislative business.

"... By the privileges of the Senate of the United States, no evidence under the control and in the possession of the Senate of the United States can, by the mandate of process of the ordinary courts of justice, be taken from such control or possession but by its permission."

The requirement that the Senate decide whether to yield materials to outsiders is written into its rules, and covers employees as well as senators. The House reserves similar prerogatives.

Nixon is arguing that he is entitled to the same discretion over White House documents and tapes, on grounds of executive privilege. That is a key part of his argument against subpoenas from the federal courts and the House Judiciary Committee.

There are differences. Executive privilege is an implied power based on precedent, not on law. Congress has something in writing.

The Constitution says its members "shall not be questioned in any other place" for speech or debate on the floor. The Supreme Court has held that this covers aides as well as members in legitimate activities that are part of the legislative process.

The two girls were selected to go to this camp by the 4-H Awards Committee. The committee considered forty-eight Ohio report forms submitted from 4-H members in making their selection. The awards are based on leadership ability displayed in 4-H, school, and community.

The camp, which has representatives from most of the counties in the state, studies a curriculum of forestry, geology, wildlife management and naturalist studies. The Pickaway County members will bring back what they have learned to help the county program at camps, land labs and in their local clubs.

3rd Suspect Being Sought

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—A hearing was scheduled today for two men charged in a $35,000 armed robbery at a Second National Bank branch in Ashland and police continued to seek a third suspect.

James R. Dunlap, 31, and William F. Jacobs, 38, both of Ashland, were apprehended after the robbery Wednesday evening, according to Thomas W. Kitchens Jr., special agent in charge of the FBI Louisville office. A third man took a hostage after the holdup, forcing him to drive to the Circleville-Chillicothe area of Ohio before releasing him unharmed. State Police said the hostage drove back to Ashland in his own truck.

The third suspect was still at large early today, State Police at Ashland said.

Dunlap and Jacobs, charged with violations of the federal bank robbery statutes, were to appear today before U.S. Magistrate George Stavros in Ashland.

G.B. Johnson Sr., president of the bank, said it was the first robbery in the 90 year history of the bank.

No one was injured, though two customers were in the bank when the armed men entered.

The robbers ordered bank employees to move away from all alarms, threatening to kill anyone who touched an alarm. They then ordered tellers to empty the cash drawers and left with the money. The vault was not entered.

Failure To Pass Badminton Test Keeps Girl From College

SOUTH RIVER, N.J. (AP) — Sharon Pinkham could miss starting college in the fall because she failed written badminton and tennis tests given only to girls in her high school's gym classes.

The 18-year-old, C-average student received a blank piece of paper instead of a diploma Wednesday at her school's ceremonies.

Unless Sharon passes the physical education course in summer school, or wins a fight to have the tests declared unconstitutional by state education authorities, Middlesex County College says it will withdraw her acceptance for fall classes.

Sharon, who wants to be a nurse, failed the physical education course because she received a 45 on the badminton test and a zero for not taking the tennis exam.

But Sharon, her mother, many spectators at the ceremony and the girl's legal adviser were quick to make the point that the tests were administered only to girls.

Boys were graded only on participation and attitude, according to Joseph Buckley, a third-year law student serving as Sharon's legal adviser.

Buckley, who works for the Rutgers Legal Aid Clinic in Newark, said a complaint on the matter has been presented to local education authorities. He said the complaint alleges the tests were discriminatory since they were given only to female physical education students.

Pearl Pinkham, Sharon's mother, said three of her five sons already had graduated from South River High School and none had to pass the tests that kept Sharon from graduating.

Sharon's 320 classmates and many of their guests at the graduation applauded wildly when her name was called. The consensus among the male graduates was, "if the boys don't have to take the test, neither do the girls." Sharon received a grade of 88 in class participation, a category that was counted twice. She said her other marks were a 78 in skills, the 45 in badminton and the zero in tennis. According to those figures, her average was just below 60. Passing was 70.

Blaze Guts Big Plant At Delaware

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Explosions and fire destroyed two-thirds of the Pennwalt Corp. plant in an industrial area at the southwest edge of Delaware early today.

About 100 firemen and a dozen pieces of equipment from Delaware and four neighboring departments were called to fight the blaze.

The first alarm was sounded by an automatic alarm system about 4:30 a.m. and firemen heard two explosions seconds later as they prepared to leave for the plant, according to Delaware Fire Captain Milton Shonting.

According to Shonting, the explosions knocked out the plant's automatic sprinkler system.

Shonting said that at first it was feared one man was in the building when the fire broke out, but this later turned out to be untrue.

The plant manufacturers chlorine laundry detergent additives and other chlorine products, Shonting said. Firemen wore self-contained breathing units to enter the building for fear of chemical fumes.

No injuries were reported.

Shonting said that about two-thirds of the plant was destroyed, but the firemen managed to save the remainder and a nearby office building.

Firemen from the Tri-Township, Scioto, Concord and Liberty departments assisted Delaware.

No dollar estimate of damage was available.
